Bills introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council, Report of Select Committees presented or to be presented to that Council, and Bills published before introduction in that Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1316L., dated Calcutta, the 25th March, 1926.—The following Report of the Select Committee on the Howrah Bridge Bill, 1926, with the Bill as amended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information:—

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE HOWRAH BRIDGE BILL, 1926.

We, the members of the Select Committee appointed to consider the Bill to provide for the construction, maintenance and control of a new bridge across the river Hooghly between Calcutta and Howrah beg to submit this, our report, with the Bill, as amended by us, annexed hereto.

Papers Nos. 1 to 12 relating to the Bill have also been considered by us. In reprinting the Bill, all changes made by us have, as far as possible, been underlined.

2. The more important changes we have made in the Bill are as follows:—

Clause 1A.—This new clause supplies a necessary omission and provides for the repeal of the existing Howrah Bridge Act, 1871, and for the vesting of the property and money relating to the existing bridge in the new Commissioners in trust.

Clause 3.—The Board of Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta expressed their unwillingness to accept the responsibility for the construction and maintenance of the Howrah Bridge. On our conclusions regarding the bridge this authority would also be unsuitable, and inasmuch as by the character of the bridge proposed the general working of the river and port will be affected, we consider that as at present the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta should be the authority in whom the bridge will be vested.

It was maintained that this proposal would work both for efficiency and economy.

Clause 4.—This clause has been re-drafted so as to make the fixing of the design and materials subject merely to the approval and not, as before, to the direction of the Local Government, leaving the site of the new bridge and its approaches to be decided on by the Local Government. Provision has also been made in this clause and in clauses 6 and 22 to cover the dismantling and removal of the existing bridge.

Clause 6.—See remarks against clause 4.

Clause 7.—We have omitted this clause as being unnecessary. Any necessary acquisition of land may be made by Government under its existing powers.

Clause 8.—This is the most important clause of the Bill. It has a bearing, by the taxation it imposes, on the type of bridge to be built. Sub-clauses (iii), (iv) and (v) of the original Bill involved the taxation of imperial sources of revenue, and the Committee understand that the Government of India assented to their inclusion in the present Bill on condition that the bridge that would be constructed will be of the cantilever type (estimated to cost Rs. 6 crores), reserving the right to reconsider the proposals in the event of a cheaper type of bridge being decided on. It is the opinion of the Committee that Bengal is not justified in expending the huge sum of 6 crores on a bridge across the Hooghly, and before we proceeded with the examination of the clauses of the Bill we came to the conclusion that the bridge should be of the cheapest possible type. We were given to understand that a sum of £1,250,000 would be required for a bridge adequate to the requirements of traffic, such as we contemplate, and, assuming that a loan for this amount could be raised with a currency of 40 years, that the annual charges on this account would be Rs. 12 lakhs per annum, plus the charges of maintenance, estimated in this type of bridge at Rs. 3 lakhs per annum. The amendments we have made in the Bill are in accordance with that conclusion.

Considering that the municipalities of Calcutta and Howrah are already committed to heavy expenditure in the near future on essential improvements, we are of opinion that the full taxation imposed by the Bill would cripple their activities, and we have therefore reduced the tax in Calcutta and neighbouring municipalities from one per cent. to one quarter per cent.

Sub-clauses (iii) and (iv) as they appear in the Bill as amended by us, represent the existing taxation for the purposes of the Howrah Bridge, that is the taxation imposed by section 4 of the Howrah Bridge Act, 1871 (Ben. Act IX of 1871). The Government of India are not, we understand, prepared to agree to any taxation, over and above that which now subsists, towards the cost of a bridge of the type contemplated; which, in their opinion, should be found by the local interests concerned.

Clause 9.—The amendments made in this clause are purely consequential.

Clause 10.—The omission of this clause is consequential upon the amendments to clause 8 (iii).

Clause 11.—We have made this clause quite general. We have also provided that the power given by sub-clause (1) is to be exercised by the Commissioners subject to the approval of the Local Government and that the matters mentioned in sub-clause (2) are to be arranged between the Commissioners and the person authorised subject to a reference to the Local Government in case of a disagreement.

Clause 13.—We have made it clear that in varying the rates of the taxes, the Local Government shall be bound by the maximum rates and other conditions provided in clause 8.

Clause 16.—The amendments made in this clause are purely consequential on the change of the authority in regard to the bridge from the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta to the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta.

Clause 17.—The provisions of this clause have been extended to the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta.

Further, as the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta have gone out of the Bill, it is unadvisable to refer to section 106 of the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911, and we have altered the reference to the latest law on the subject, viz., section 118 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923.

Clause 20.—Old sub-clause (2) (b) has been omitted consequent on the decision to omit clause 10.

We have inserted a new sub-clause (2) (b) to provide for rules for the auditing of the accounts under clause 15.

Clause 22.—We have supplied a necessary omission in this clause indemnifying the authorities against any loss or injury caused by the dismantling or removal of the existing bridge and its approaches.

Clause 24.—Items (1) and (2) in this clause have been omitted as being consequential on the omission of clause 10.

Clause 25.—The omission of this clause is consequential on the omission of the schedules.

The Schedule.—The first and second Schedules have been omitted consequent on the alterations made in sub-clauses (iii) and (iv) of clause 8.

3. The Bill was published in accordance with rule 18 of the Bengal Legislative Council Rules, 1920, in the Calcutta Gazette of the 11th June 1924.

4. We consider that the Bill has not been so altered as to require republication.

5. We recommend that the Bill, as amended by us, be passed.

Joint Minute of Dissent by the Hon'ble Mr. J. Donald, C.S.I., C.I.E., and Messrs. J. A. Woodhead, I.C.S., and H. C. Liddell, I.C.S.

I regret that I have to differ from the conclusions of the Select Committee in regard to the amendments made by them in clause 8 of the Bill. I do so for two reasons: firstly, because it seems to be doubtful whether from the revenue derived from the sources mentioned in that clause a bridge can be built which will suffice even for present-day traffic, and, secondly, because it distributes the burden of payment unequally between the residents of Calcutta and residents of the mufassal and outside areas and favours the former very greatly at the expense of the latter. As is stated in the remarks on clause 8, an annual charge of Rs. 15 lakhs was considered the amount necessary to provide and maintain the cheapest possible bridge considered adequate to meet the requirements of traffic. The taxation leviable under clause 8, as amended, together with the contribution of the Local Government payable under clause 12, will produce a sum estimated at about Rs. 13½ lakhs. It is doubtful whether even this amount will actually be realised, for it is strongly asserted that the fares on the ferry service of the Port Commissioners are incapable of enhancement, and that the imposition of any tax over and above the present fares would result in so material a diminution of the receipts from the ferry service as to render the discontinuance of that service more than likely. It is possible that, with cheaper money and on tenders being called for, the sum available may prove sufficient to provide a bridge suitable for present-day conditions, but it will be impossible to provide by such bridge for possible future developments. I prefer, however, that a really adequate sum be provided in the first instance, and should the full effect of clause 8 be to give a sum larger than is necessary, that a subsequent adjustment of taxation be made under the powers conferred by clause 13. This is better than legislating for a sum which may prove insufficient and may entail subsequent legislation to make up the deficiency.

The second consideration is more important. By the taxation imposed under sub-clauses (i) and (ii) of clause 8, the residents of Calcutta would contribute annually Rs. 2 lakhs and those of Howrah and other municipalities a sum of Rs. 25,000 towards the construction of a bridge which is so vital to their interests as against a charge on the Province as a whole of Rs. 5 lakhs and a tax on goods and passengers arriving in Howrah from all quarters even from outside Bengal of nearly Rs. 4 lakhs. This is a most inadequate contribution from the city of Calcutta for the prosperity of which a bridge has been and always will be a necessity, and from Howrah which would suffer greatly in the absence of a bridge. The proposal that these two cities which largely depend on the existence of a bridge should pay only twice as much as ferry passengers to whom the bridge renders no service is unjustifiable. I attach little weight to the argument that these cities are committed to heavy expenditure on essential improvements and cannot therefore pay more for a bridge. I have seen little tendency towards any increase in municipal taxation in order to make any such essential improvements, and in any case a new Howrah Bridge is more than an essential— it is an inevitable necessity. Calcutta can well afford to pay more than one-quarter per cent. now included in the Bill. In my opinion the share of Calcutta and Howrah in the expenditure can be more appropriately represented by a rate of one per cent. as provided in the original Bill. And equally appropriately the contribution from provincial revenues should bear some reduction.

Joint Minute of Dissent by Babu Naliniranjan Sarker, Dr. Bidhan Chandra Roy, Babu Taraknath Mukerjea and Babu Nirmal Chandra Chunder.

We beg to sign the report subject to the following note of dissent:—

We are not satisfied with the provision made under clause 3 for placing the duties of carrying out the provisions of the Act on the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, the constitution of which is not sufficiently representative of the different interests of corporations who are contributing towards the cost of construction and maintenance of the new Howrah Bridge. Moreover, it will cast an additional responsibility on the Commissioners of the Port Trust who are already burdened with multifarious duties as contemplated in the Calcutta Port Act.

The creation of a new body for the purpose of carrying out the specific duties of construction and maintenance of the Howrah Bridge, would, in our opinion, contribute to greater efficiency of the work both in regard to cost and expedition.

We suggest, therefore, that a new body consisting of fourteen Commissioners be created as follows for the purpose :—

(1) From the Calcutta Corporation	...	3
(2) From the suburban municipalities	...	1
(3) From the Calcutta Port Trust	...	1
(4) From the Calcutta Improvement Trust	...	1
(5) From the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce	...	2
(6) From the Mahajan Sabha	...	1
(7) From the Bengal Chamber of Commerce	...	2
(8) Nominated by Government	...	3

The present receipts of the Howrah Bridge comprise the terminal tax of 2 pies on every maund of goods conveyed on the East Indian Railway and a tax of 3 pies on every passenger of that railway brought to or taken from the Howrah Station and subsequently the Bengal Nagpur Railway authorities also have agreed to pay a lump sum of Rs. 26,000 per annum towards the upkeep of this bridge. It will be observed that at the time the Howrah Bridge Act was passed in 1871 the Bengal Nagpur Railway was not in existence. In the present Bill the Bengal Nagpur Railway has been exempted even from their annual contribution. As both the Bengal Nagpur Railway and the East Indian Railway are users of the bridge why should a company-managed railway be exempted from this legitimate tax when the State railway has to pay the same? The goods and passengers coming to Calcutta by the East Indian Railway will have to pay the terminal tax, while those coming by the Bengal Nagpur Railway will be exempted. It puts a premium on travelling by a non-State railway which, in our opinion, is bad in principle. We do not know if the Government of Bengal has sufficiently tried to induce the Government of India to agree to the imposition of the terminal tax on the Bengal Nagpur Railway so as to embody a like provision in clause 8. The number of passengers carried by the Bengal Nagpur Railway and who used the Howrah Bridge in the year 1924-25 was 5,596,032 and the maundage of goods brought by the Bengal Nagpur Railway during the same year and carried over the bridge was 837,345 maunds. If the terminal taxes were levied on Bengal Nagpur Railway goods and passengers also at the same rate leviable with regard to East Indian Railway the income from this source would be about Rs. 2 lakhs per annum. Some of the members of the Committee urged that the tax on the rate-payers of Calcutta should be $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on the annual valuation and not $\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. as was accepted by the majority as in that event the proposed income from all the sources may fall short of Rs. 15 lakhs which has been estimated to be the annual amount necessary for the construction and maintenance of the Howrah Bridge. We, therefore, urge that the goods and passengers of the Bengal Nagpur Railway should on grounds of equity and justice also be included under clause 8 of the Bill in the same way as the East Indian Railway.

We, therefore, recommend that the Bill should be passed after embodying clauses to give effect to the above suggestions as also other consequential changes.

Minute of Dissent by Babu Khagendra Nath Ganguly, M.L.C.

In clause 3, sub-clause (3) the following words " and five representatives from the Corporation of Calcutta, three from the Howrah Municipality and one each from Tollygunge and South Suburban Municipalities " be inserted between the words " being " and " shall ". My object is to allow representatives of those interests which will contribute towards the fund of the Howrah Bridge to have a voice in the affairs of the bridge.

In clause 8, sub-clause (ii) in place of " one-quarter " the words " one-eighth " be substituted. My object in trying to reduce the rate of taxation in the case of mufassal municipalities is to relieve Howrah to some extent. The incidence of taxation in Howrah is already enormously high and the advent of the Improvement Trust will add another burden. These new taxes are bound to cripple the activities of Howrah in the matter of urgent essential improvements.

In clause 17 after the words " thereof " and before the word " and " in line 8, the words " after allowing the Port Commissioners or the Municipal Commissioners as the case may be, an opportunity of explaining, the reasons for the failure " be inserted. This modification is suggested on the fundamental principle that no person or body corporate should be condemned unheard.

Minute of Dissent by Maulvi Wahed Hossain, M.L.C.

I beg to sign the report subject to the following note of dissent :—

I am not satisfied with the provision made under clause 3 for placing the duties of carrying out the provisions of the Act on the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta, the constitution of which is, not sufficiently representative of the different interests of Corporation which are contributing towards the cost of construction and maintenance of the new Howrah Bridge. The number of passengers carried by the Bengal Nagpur Railway and who used the Howrah Bridge in the year 1924-25 was 5,596,032 and the maundage of goods brought by the Bengal Nagpur Railway during the same year and carried over the bridge was 837,345 maunds. If the terminal taxes were levied on Bengal Nagpur Railway goods and passengers also at the same rate leviable with regard to East Indian Railway the income from this source would be about Rs. 2 lakhs per annum. Some of the members of the Committee urged that the tax on the rate-payers of Calcutta should be ½ per cent. on the annual valuation and not ¼ per cent. as was accepted by the majority as in that event the proposed income from all the sources may fall short of Rs. 15 lakhs which has been estimated to be the annual amount necessary for the construction and maintenance of the Howrah Bridge. I, therefore, urge that the goods and passengers of the Bengal Nagpur Railway should on grounds of equity and justice also be included under clause 8 of the Bill in the same way as the East Indian Railway, and that the proposed tax on the rate-payers should not be more than ¼ per cent.

I further beg to point out that the proposed penalty for infringement of by-law in clause 22 seems to be excessive. The amounts of Rs. 100 and Rs. 50 should be reduced to half respectively.

Furthermore, the amount of penalties for offences mentioned in clause 24 appears to be very harsh. The fine proposed in item No. (3) attached to clause 24 should be reduced to Rs. 200 and that in No. (4) to Rs. 20.

I, therefore, beg to suggest that the Bill should be considered in the light of observations I have made and passed after embodying clauses to give effect to the above suggestions as also other consequential changes.

Joint Minute of Dissent by Messrs. Kenneth Campbell and J. F. Snaith.

It is a matter of regret that we are unable to accept all the proposals put forward by the Select Committee. The taxation scheme supported by the Committee will not presumably yield more than Rs. 13¼ lakhs yearly; and if, as is apprehended, the tax on the Port Commissioners ferry steamers should prove to be impracticable the annual yield will be reduced to Rs. 12¼ lakhs. It is admitted in the remarks on clause 8 that Rs. 15 lakhs yearly will be required; and it would seem therefore to be a shortsighted policy to legislate for anything less than that sum.

2. Furthermore, the scheme does not in our opinion fairly distribute the burden of the taxation to be imposed. After all, the people of Calcutta, Howrah and the other municipalities must of necessity derive vastly more benefit from the bridge than the people of the province generally. In fact the bridge is an imperative necessity for Calcutta and Howrah. It cannot be right, therefore, that the municipalities should contribute only Rs. 2¼ lakhs and the province as a whole more than double that amount. We entirely agree that the local Government, that is to say, the province, should make a substantial contribution. But this ought obviously to be less and not more than the contribution of the municipalities. It is also in our view unwise to legislate for a tax on the ferry service if there is doubt as to whether such a tax is realisable.

3. As will be inferred from the foregoing, we would increase the contribution payable by the municipalities and reduce the contribution payable by the local Government. A municipal tax of one per cent. would yield more than is required; and it would be sufficient if a tax of "not more than ¾ per cent." were levied on the rateable value. This might also be subject to a maximum of about Rs. 6 lakhs yearly. The contribution from the provincial Government could be thus reduced to Rs. 4 lakhs; the tax on the ferry service would not be wanted; and a sum of Rs. 15 lakhs yearly would be raised. The scheme would be as follows:—

(a) Calcutta, Howrah and other municipalities at ¾ per cent. ...	Rs. 6 lakhs.
(b) Government of Bengal ...	Rs. 4 lakhs.
(c) Railways (goods and passengers) ...	Rs. 4 lakhs.
(d) Vehicles ...	Rs. 1 lakh.
	Rs. 15 lakhs.

4. In the event of it proving to be the case that an annual sum of less than Rs. 15 lakhs would be sufficient then (a) and (b) might be reduced proportionately.

5. Under existing taxation coal and salt are exempted from paying the two pies per maund as provided for in clause 8 (3) of the Amended Bill and we recommend that both these articles should continue to be exempted.

6. We have said nothing of a contribution by the Imperial Government. We would not like it to be thought that we are therefore of the opinion that such a contribution ought not to be forthcoming. In our view the bridge may be rightly regarded as an approach to the two great railway systems that have their termini at Howrah. These railways were unable to cross the river and the bridge makes them accessible. It was not unreasonable therefore for Calcutta to expect that the Central Government, as the owner of the railways, should contribute.

Minute of Dissent by Babu Surendra Nath Ray, M.L.C.

I protest against the proposed levy under clause 8 (ii) of the ¼ per cent. on the annual rateable value of holdings situated within the South Suburban Municipality and Tollygunge Municipality under section 96 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, for the proposed Howrah Bridge. I have already stated in full in my opinion given as Chairman of the South Suburban Municipality and which has been printed and circulated among the members of the Council my reasons why there should not be any additional taxes on these municipalities for the bridge. The nearest point of the South Suburban Municipality from the Howrah Bridge is 7 miles, while Tollygunge is about 8 miles distant and the longest distance would be about 12 miles from the bridge while Baranagore is only 4 miles, Kamarhatty 5 miles and South Dum-Dum 5 miles from the Howrah Bridge. There is very little to show that South Suburban and Tollygunge municipalities will derive such benefit from the Howrah Bridge more than any other suburban municipalities near Calcutta such as those noted above as would entitle the Government to impose an additional tax upon the rate-payers of these places. It would neither be just nor equitable to impose an additional burden upon a body without giving it some benefit.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE OPERATIONS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR 1924-25.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

AGRICULTURE AND INDUSTRIES DEPARTMENT.

Agriculture.

CALCUTTA, THE 15TH MARCH 1926.

RESOLUTION—No. 1309.

READ—

The report on the operations of the Department of Agriculture, Bengal, for the year 1924-25.

1. Administration.—Mr. Finlow was in charge of the Department throughout the year. He was confirmed as Director of Agriculture on the retirement of Mr. G. Evans on the 17th February 1925. Mr. McLean was appointed to be Assistant Director of Agriculture with effect from the 27th May 1925. Owing to the embargo placed on recruitment to the Indian Agricultural Service pending orders on the recommendations of the Lee Commission for the provincialization of the service and the stoppage of officiating appointment to that service, the post of Second Economic Botanist was not filled on the expiry of the term of officiating appointment of Mr. Dwijadas Datta, Superintendent of Agriculture, on 30th June 1925. In view of the importance of the work under investigation by this officer, Government have decided that he should continue to do the work of the Second Economic Botanist.

2. Agricultural education.—Government trust that the Director of Agriculture will take every possible step to make the Secondary Agricultural School at the Dacca Farm more popular and to attract a sufficient number of students to it.

With regard to higher agricultural education, it had been intended to start an Agricultural Institute at Dacca for the purpose of providing post-graduate training in advanced agriculture. It has now been decided to start, in the first place, an institution of the Agricultural College type with adequate provision for practical training and to add a post-graduate section in due course. It is hoped to secure the co-operation of the Dacca University in the teaching of subjects relating to pure science. As soon as the scheme has been revised on these lines, an attempt will be made to provide the necessary funds.

The scheme for agricultural education in schools on the Punjab lines referred to in the report is still under consideration.

3. Research and experiment.—Important experiments continued to be carried on in the Fibres, Botanical and Chemical Sections. In the Fibres Section jute continues to receive special attention. The work on the new race of jute D. 27, which appears to be at least equal in yield to the previous departmental selections and even superior to them in quality, is still in progress. An interesting investigation is also being made with a view to determine whether variety or environment is the main factor affecting the quality of fibre. Work on other fibres such as sunn hemp, rhea, sisal, etc., is still in progress.

The departmental races of rice evolved in the Botanical Section are being extended in the localities suited to them. The main line of work now in progress in this section is the selection of races of rice suitable to the drier tracts of Western Bengal, and of improved strains of the balam paddy of Bakarganj. An improved race of transplanted paddy known as dudshar, which is nearly as heavy a yielder as indrasail, has made rapid progress in the Malda district.

In the Chemical Section important work is being carried on with sugarcane and tobacco. Yellow Tanna cane continues to spread rapidly. Over two lakhs of cuttings were distributed during the year under report. One of the Superintendents of Agriculture was placed under the Agricultural Chemist for special work on sugar as well as for assisting in the work of seed supply and demonstration. The new cane C. O. 213 did well at Dacca, Rajshahi and Berhampore.

The work on tobacco has now reached a definite stage and a programme of expansion has been laid down for the province. Demonstrations of tobacco cultivation have been attended with promising results, especially in the Eastern Circle, and the demand for departmental tobacco seed has been far in excess of supply.

Experiments on flue curing of tobacco have yielded results of some commercial value by producing leaf of the desired colour and quality; and it is hoped that it will be possible in the near future to develop the industrial side of the work which has been taken by the Agricultural Chemist.

4. Water-hyacinth.—The problem of eradication of water-hyacinth continues to engage the special attention of Government. A series of experiments has been made with the Griffiths' spray on a small scale in different parts of the province as a result of which Government are not satisfied that the spray is an effective means of finally eradicating water-hyacinth from a given area. The experience gained indicates that man-handling is an essential part of any campaign against water-hyacinth on a large scale and attention is now being directed to the collection of the data necessary for drawing up a scheme on these lines. The Irrigation Department have deputed Mr. E. A. Moore, Assistant Engineer, for this purpose with special reference to the clearance of water channels, and Babu Kalipada Maitra of the Bengal Civil Service, who has had considerable experience in the affected parts, has been placed on special duty to collect information and opinions as to the area and source of infection, the difficulties of dealing with it and the various conditions necessary to get concerted action against the pest. After these preliminaries have been completed, Government hope to be in a position to formulate a definite scheme of campaign. In the meantime investigations are in progress with a view to the economic utilization of the weed. Dr. P. Brühl of the Calcutta University has also undertaken research into certain aspects of the life history of the plant with the help of a grant from Government.

5. Improvement of the farming industry, agricultural stations and farms: Animal husbandry and fodder supply: Agricultural engineering and supply of improved seed, manure and implements.—The buildings on the new farm at Dinajpur are expected to be complete at the end of the current financial year. The buildings on the Mainaguri Farm in the Jalpaiguri district are under construction. Proceedings for the acquisition of land for the Malda Farm have been initiated, whilst proposals are on foot for the establishment of farms for the Nadia and the 24-Parganas districts.

The Kishoreganj Farm is run on a modified barga system, the actual cultivation being carried on by cultivators who are supplied with departmental seeds of paddy, jute and sugarcane on condition that they return an equal quantity after harvest in addition to the departmental share of the produce. This farm has been a conspicuous success both from the economic and demonstration points of view. It paid its way, and at the same time popularized the larger adoption of all departmentally improved crops in the local area. Another area of Khas Mahal land has been taken over at Jamalpur in the Mymensingh district for a similar purpose.

An important feature in the development of the farming industry is the growth of private farms conducted on up-to-date lines, especially in Northern Bengal, noteworthy among which is the Dayarampur Farm belonging to Kumar Sarat Kumar Roy of Dighapatiya. Other noteworthy farms are the Sultanpur (Birbhum) Farm belonging to Rai Abinash Chandra Banerjee Bahadur and the Mallick Agricultural Farm at Ranaghat belonging to Rai Kumud Nath Mallick Bahadur. The Court of Wards' farms mentioned by the Director of Agriculture also serve as useful demonstration centres to the cultivators.

In the year under report the standard of rejection for cows at the Rangpur Cattle Farm was raised to 2,500 lbs. per lactation period of 300 days. There has been an increased demand for bulls at Rangpur. Twelve bulls were sold during the year, about half the number being purchased by the Assam Agricultural Department. At the Dacca Farm the present policy is to evolve by selection and mating with pedigree bulls a herd of Sindhi cattle of superior milking strain: 75 per cent. of the cows at the farm have reached a standard of 2,000 lbs. of milk per lactation period and 14 female calves and 18 bull calves have been raised.

Whilst it is satisfactory to note the progress made in the work at Rangpur, the problem before the department now is to popularize the pedigree bulls evolved there and to multiply them. With a view to creating a demand, the Director of Agriculture has issued instructions for free service by the stud bulls maintained at the farms. Proposals for an advance in the direction are under consideration, but the problem has now reached a stage necessitating expert guidance and it is hoped to appoint a cattle-breeding expert this year.

Experiments with fodder crops are being made in the various farms. The main lines of work are to find their relative suitability as catch crops as well as cold weather crops when the fodder problem becomes acute. So far, encouraging results have been obtained with rheana (wild maize) and also a variety of bajra (pennisetum typhoideum). Amongst pulses cowpea has done well.

The problem of agricultural engineering chiefly from the point of view of improving the irrigation facilities in the highland tracts and popularising improved machinery and implements for agricultural purposes has been engaging the attention of Government for some time past. A scheme for the appointment of an Agricultural Engineer for the purpose has been prepared and is awaiting the provision of funds...

Closely connected with the question of irrigation is the important problem of the preservation of the soil moisture in the rolling country in Western Bengal which is so essential for agricultural development but which has been seriously affected by erosion caused by reckless denudation of the forests for years past. This is also responsible for the heavy floods and the silting of rivers in the Burdwan Division. The whole question of remedying the evil is engaging attention.

6. Seed distribution.—During the year about 66 tons of departmentally improved jute seed were raised and sold for Rs. 58,000. The sale was made through a private agency. The free distribution of jute seed in small packets to cultivators for the purpose of extension of departmental races in untapped areas through the agency of the panchayats was continued with satisfactory results. Under this system the cultivator is required not to cut the resulting crop until the seed is harvested.

Government will await with interest the result of the experiment of growing departmental paddies on cultivators' lands through the agency of village associations in selected centres in the Dacca and Malda districts.

7. Propaganda and dissemination of agricultural information.—The Governor in Council agrees with the Director of Agriculture that the District Officers are in a specially favourable position to exercise their influence in controlling the agricultural policy of their districts in the matter of propaganda and demonstration and in organizing work among non-officials through the medium of agricultural associations and co-operative societies. His Excellency in Council notes with satisfaction that several District Officers, notably those of Rangpur and Malda, evinced keen personal interest in the work of the Department within their respective districts during the year under report. It is hoped that the example of the good work done by the agricultural associations of the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions will stimulate similar activities in other parts of the province. Government also hope that the Director of Agriculture and the Registrar of Co-operative Societies will work in close touch with each other so as to utilize co-operative societies as much as possible for the purpose of financing agricultural operations, marketing of agricultural produce and the introduction of improved seeds and manures and improved agricultural methods.

8. Sericulture.—In the year 1923 the Bengal Silk Committee was reconstituted on a popular basis, the silk-rearing and trade interests being represented on it. The main function of the Government nurseries continues to be the rearing of disease-free stock. The nurseries produced 17,380 kahans of seed cocoons and the receipts amounted to Rs. 75,275. Better manuring has resulted in an increased yield of mulberry leaf with the consequent reduction in the quantity of leaf purchased from outside sources.

The policy of the propagation of disease-free seed through the agency of selected rearers under departmental supervision has been attended with encouraging results. Ten new seed farms were started during the year, bringing the total number to 52 in the districts of Malda, Birbhum, Rajshahi and Murshidabad. The selected rearers are reported to have raised between 14,000 and 15,000 kahans or nearly as much as raised in the Government nurseries. The reelers' and rearers' co-operative societies in the several districts are reported to be doing good work.

The report makes mention of the progress made in the introduction of the silk-rearing industry amongst the bhadralog classes in the neighbourhood of Behala in the 24-Parganas with the assistance of Mr. S. N. Roy, M.L.C., who is a member of the society formed for the purpose. It is hoped that the interesting demonstration work, which is being carried on under Miss Cleghorn in the 24-Parganas district, will result in popularising sericulture as a profitable occupation to educated young men of the bhadralog class. At Mymensingh, the Central Co-operative Bank has taken up the work of rearing with a view to encouraging the development of sericulture in the district. Encouraging results have been obtained from the experimental plantation at the Dacca Farm. In the Bankura district good progress has been made towards the revival of the silk industry and steps have been taken for the establishment of a nursery at the Vishnupur subdivision of the district. A scheme for propaganda in the 24-Parganas and Malda districts on the lines indicated in the report is at present under the consideration of Government.

The education of the sons of rearers in improved sericultural practice continues to be imparted at the sericultural schools at Rajshahi and Berhampore. During the year nine passed students were granted rewards totalling Rs. 1,500 for the construction of model rearing houses. Owing to the high cost of materials and labour the existing scale of rewards at Rs. 250 has been found to be inadequate and it is proposed to raise its value to Rs. 400 as soon as funds are available. The primary schools at Piasbari, Amriti and Kumarpur, where children are taught, the rudiments of sericulture are reported to be doing good work.

9. The Governor in Council acknowledges with pleasure the good work done by Mr. Finlow in the administration of the department. His thanks are also due to the district officers and non-official gentlemen who have rendered assistance towards the development of agriculture in the province.

By order of the Governor in Council,

G. S. DUTT,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF DISTRICT BOARDS IN BENGAL DURING 1924-25.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Local Self-Government Department.

CALCUTTA, THE 4TH FEBRUARY, 1926.

RESOLUTION—No. 335 L.S.-G.

READ—

The reports of the Commissioners of Divisions on the working of District Boards in Bengal during the year 1924-25.

District Boards.—The total number of members increased from 663 to 676, the increase being due to the enlargement of the Birbhum and Jessore District Boards with an elective majority. The percentage of elected members in the Province rose from 57·5 to 58·3. In the Howrah District Board which was reconstituted during the year, new blood was introduced with more pronounced democratic views, as a result of the more widespread interest taken in the district in local self-government.

2. Local Boards.—As in the previous year the number of Local Boards was 82 which were presided over by 76 non-official and 6 official Chairmen. They held 889 meetings against 928 in the previous year; 17 proved abortive for want of a quorum.

3. Village Self-Government.—Up to the end of the year 2,762 union boards were sanctioned, of which nearly 1,500 were in working order. Propaganda work for the establishment of new union boards was carried on by circle officers who explained to the people the provisions and advantages of the Act. In most places their attempts were successful and many proposals for the creation of new boards were matured. In some places where there were no circle officers the Subdivisional Officers made it a point to sound the opinion of the local people in the course of their tours. In Noakhali, towards the end of the year, the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division presided over a conference of President Panchayats and others. Each President was furnished with a Bengali edition of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act for perusal and for an expression of his views as to the necessity or otherwise of the establishment of union boards. The work could not be hurried as opposition and suspicion had to be disarmed by tactful methods.

The union boards which worked during the year realised both under clauses (a) and (b) of section 37 of the Act, Rs. 20 lakhs including the rents of chaukidari chakran lands, of which Rs. 16 lakhs was spent on establishment, leaving a balance of Rs. 4 lakhs only for communications, water-supply and other sanitary measures. Though the balance is far too small for these purposes, it is satisfactory to note that it considerably exceeds that (Rs. 3 lakhs) of the previous year. Some union boards maintained regular dispensaries, distributed quinine free, organised anti-malarial societies, took measures for the improvement of rural water-supply and sanitation and generally, evinced a keen interest in the welfare of the village population. Free primary schools were also maintained by some unions and in many places the boards rendered considerable help in settling local disputes. The Jorehat union board in the district of Howrah actually introduced street lighting in its main village thoroughfares.

On the whole, there was steady progress, though in many unions faction and apathy amongst the members and lack of initiative on the part of the president tended to limit the activities of the boards to the payment of chaukidars.

4. Finance of District Boards.—The receipts amounted to Rs. 133 lakhs against Rs. 126·8 lakhs in 1923-24 the increase being mainly due to larger receipts under Local Rates, Medical, Civil Works and Debt heads. Receipts under Education and Miscellaneous declined. The disbursements rose from

Rs. 127 lakhs to Rs. 131 lakhs. The increase was chiefly due to increased expenditure under Education, Medical, and Civil Works. The closing balance amounted to Rs. 37·6 lakhs (of which Rs. 22·5 lakhs were in cash) against Rs. 36·4 lakhs in 1923-24.

5. Taxation.—The average incidence of taxation throughout the Presidency was 2 annas 9 pies a head per annum varying in different districts from 1 anna 4 pies to 9 annas 9 pies.

6. Education.—The expenditure rose by Rs. 46,000 to Rs. 29·9 lakhs, of which Government contributed Rs. 16·4 lakhs while contributions from other sources, school fees, and miscellaneous receipts amounted to Rs. ·3 lakhs, Rs. ·4 lakhs and Rs. ·36 lakhs, respectively. District Boards from their own funds contributed Rs. 12·4 lakhs against an almost equal amount contributed by them in 1923-24. The number of upper and lower primary schools maintained and aided by District Boards rose from 40,859 to 41,490 of which 31,750 were boys' schools and 9,740 were girls' schools. The number of girls' schools declined by 164, but the number of pupils attending them increased by 5,130. Union boards continued to maintain the free primary schools started by them in previous years on the lines suggested by Mr. Biss, and the three schools started in the Shibpur union by the Bakarganj District Board are reported to have proved very successful. New schools of this type were started during the year at Astagharia (Burdwan), Khejurdaha (Hooghly), and Bagnan (Howrah) and the 24-Parganas District Board sanctioned the establishment of one such school at Narayanpur and agreed to pay one-fourth of the maintenance charges. Buildings for two similar schools were constructed by the Pabna District. It is satisfactory to record even a small increase in the number of schools of this type. Technical and industrial education, as usual, continued to receive the special attention of District Boards. The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division (Mr. Cook) sounds a note of warning here. He says: "Unfortunately the members of the committees have little knowledge of these crafts and have no standard up to which they should insist on the teaching being kept. The result is that the training stands in danger of becoming poor with the result that the finished product of the school, either as pupil or articles, is no better than can be found anywhere in the bazar". The proposal for the establishment of a technical school at Krishnagar with a private donation of Rs. 1 lakh made further progress. The donors paid one-half of the promised donation and negotiation is going on with the owners of a private house in the town for the free gift of the house to accommodate the said school.

7. Medical Relief and Public Health.—The expenditure under these heads aggregated Rs. 18 lakhs against Rs. 17 lakhs of the preceding year. The increase is noticeable in most of the districts and was most marked in Midnapur, Burdwan and Bakarganj. Fifty-five new dispensaries were opened during the year and the total number of dispensaries maintained and aided were 463 and 326, respectively. Medical relief was, as usual, provided primarily through these institutions and also through a small number of homeopathic, kaviraji and hakimi dispensaries maintained or subsidized by District Boards. Arrangements were also made to provide medical relief in rural areas during epidemics by engaging temporary itinerant doctors who distributed medicines free, treated cases, disinfected wells and took measures to prevent the spread of cholera, small-pox, and other infectious diseases. Dispensaries were also maintained by some union boards. In some places dispensaries were opened to serve single unions; Bengal cannot yet afford so small a unit and it would probably be better for District Boards to encourage co-operation between a group of union boards in the maintenance of a larger dispensary with greater funds.

The District Board of Burdwan maintained 13 temporary fever dispensaries during the fever season while the Khulna District Board appointed a special malaria committee to suggest measures for changing the medical policy of the Board. The recommendation of the committee to establish subsidised doctors and kavirajes at six centres in the district was adopted by the Board with some modifications. A good many anti-malarial societies and private health associations worked during the year. They took preventive measures against malaria by cutting jungle, cleansing and cutting drains, filling up and kerosinising dobas and stagnant pools of water.

Besides the dispensaries maintained and aided by District Boards where there were arrangements for the periodical treatment of kala-azar patients, special arrangements were made by most of the Boards for the treatment and prevention of the disease. Many out-centres and sub-centres were opened and supplied with requisite medicines and instruments. A good number of centres was also started by honorary workers and the Boards supplied them with medicines and apparatus free of charge. The doctors of many anti-malarial societies also treated kala-azar cases free of charge. But most noteworthy in this field was the action of the 24-Parganas District Board which set apart a sum of Rs. 2 lakhs for combating kala-azar and malaria. The scheme of the Board, which was inaugurated during the year under review, has been fully elaborated and a committee formed with the Director of Public Health as President and the District Magistrate as Vice-President to see to its successful working. Forty-seven treatment centres have so far been established. The success of this scheme must depend mainly on the efficiency with which its working is supervised. Government are convinced that a necessary postulate to steady progress in the prevention of disease and the amelioration of health conditions in rural areas is the creation of a proper public health organization. The District Board of the 24-Parganas has made a notable advance in recognizing this principle which lies at the root of the amazing progress made in the United Kingdom in the last 50 years in combating disease, but a listless unintelligent staff will do little good, while it will discredit the idea of "public health organization" which Dr. Bentley has so vigorously, and in the opinion of Government so soundly, advocated for years past. A staff of Sub-Assistant Surgeons even though they may have had some training in preventive work, is apt to concentrate on the treatment of disease as the easier line of country but the 24-Parganas scheme, if it is to produce a lasting effect on the incidence of disease, must not aim primarily at the multiplication of dispensaries. It is the function of a public health organization to treat disease so to speak in the mass, whereas a hospital deals with individuals, and constant inspection, supervision and advice from men of wide vision and sympathy, with a gift for administration, will be necessary if full value is to be obtained from such a staff as local bodies can afford to employ.

The Governor in Council desires to congratulate District Boards on the valuable work they have done in providing for the treatment of kala-azar. Malaria is still the outstanding problem, but the former disease has during the last two or three years been consolidating the position it had gained and the rapid multiplication of treatment centres are essential. The District Boards of Midnapur, Hooghly, Howrah, Jessore, Khulna, Mymensingh, Faridpur, Bakarganj, Tippera, Noakhali, Pabna, Malda and Dinajpur, all did excellent work in treating kala-azar cases, while the work of the Naogaon centre in Rajshahi deserves special mention.

Serious epidemics of cholera broke out in several places, but the spread of the disease was checked by prompt action taken in the shape of disinfecting sources of water-supply and inoculating the people in the affected villages and their neighbourhood with anti-cholera vaccine supplied free of charge by the Public Health Department. This method of inoculation met with no opposition from the public and is said to have produced satisfactory results. In the 24-Parganas District a special staff consisting of five Sanitary Inspectors was lent by Government to combat cholera for some months during the epidemic season. A very severe epidemic in Dinajpur was brought under control by the energetic efforts of the District Health Officer.

There were outbreaks of small-pox in several districts. In all these cases measures were taken to check the progress of the disease. Free vaccination on the gang system was carried on in Rajshahi from 1,548 depôts, and it is reported that in consequence of this arrangement there were few deaths in the district from small-pox. Free vaccination by a paid staff was introduced during the year in Pabna. In the Bakarganj district the compulsory system of vaccination which had been introduced in the preceding year in the Kotwali thana was extended in a modified form to the other thanas of the district with a fair degree of success. It is reported that altogether 96,328 operations were performed, of which 90,310 were successful. The District Board of Rajshahi opened no less than 1,545 depôts for vaccination work. The work of this Board in its public health and medical branches deserves praise.

8. Veterinary.—The charges under this head increased from Rs. 1,71,500 to

Rs. 1,81;000, the increase being shared by many District Boards, notably by the Birbhum, Mymensingh, Chittagong and Rangpur District Boards. The expenditure decreased considerably in the Noakhali and Darjeeling districts. In the last year's resolution adverse remarks were made on the veterinary policy of the Bankura District Board, the expenditure of which under this head fell from Rs. 6,000 in 1922-23 to Rs. 2,000 in 1923-24. although an epidemic of rinderpest broke out in the district. The expenditure of this Board during the year under review (Rs. 3,000) shows a slight increase, but it was inadequate as there was an abnormal increase in the number of rinderpest epidemics during the year which practically extended throughout the district and could not be properly attended to by the single veterinary assistant entertained by the Board. Cattle disease in an epidemic form broke out in several other districts where prompt measures were taken to check its progress. The veterinary assistants did good service and the utility of their operations was highly appreciated by the people. New veterinary dispensaries were opened in the Rampurhat Subdivision of the Birbhum district and at Rajbari in the Faridpur district and steps were being taken for the establishment of one at Tangail in Mymensingh, towards which the Santosh Wards Estate made a contribution of Rs. 7,000. The Khulna District Board, however, abolished the dispensaries at headquarters and utilized the services of the veterinary assistants merely in combating cattle epidemics in the rural areas. The Hooghly District Board abolished the post of one veterinary assistant at Sheoraphuli—a retrograde step which Government most strongly deprecate.

9. Civil Works.—The total expenditure under this head, which includes the sums spent on water-supply and drainage, rose from Rs. 60·4 lakhs to Rs. 62·7 lakhs. The principal items of expenditure under this head are Buildings, Communications, Water-supply and Establishment. The expenditure on the first and last items fell by Rs. 30,000 and Rs. 9,000 respectively, while there was an increase under Communications (Rs. 25,000) and Water-supply (Rs. 3,60,000). The increase under these two heads, however, was confined chiefly to "Original works" and amounted to Rs. 1,32,000 in the case of "Communications" and Rs. 3,50,000 in the case of "Water-supply," while the charges for the maintenance of "Water-supply" rose by Rs. 10,000 only and those in the case of "Communications" showed a decrease of over one lakh. This tendency of the District Boards to incur new liabilities somewhat recklessly without making adequate provision for their old standing and essential obligations, specially those relating to communications, was noticed in the last year's resolution, and it is regrettable that no improvement is noticeable in this direction. The prosperity of the people depends to a great extent on trade facilities arising from good roads, and a District Board will be failing in one of its primary duties if roads are neglected.

Some District Boards have complained that considerable damage is done to their roads by a steady increase in motor traffic. Although they have to pay all the expenses for the upkeep of the roads they get nothing in the shape of an income from license fees. A Bill is now under the consideration of Government for authorising local bodies to levy a reasonable fee on motor traffic, which is responsible for damage to roads maintained by these bodies.

As in the preceding years, the percentage of lapses over the budget allotment was the highest in the 24-Parganas district, although it declined from 30·5 in the preceding year to 24·0 in the year under review. No part of the allotment lapsed in Malda. The percentage decreased to a considerable extent in Midnapore and Bogra, while in Birbhum and Rajshahi it increased from 8·0 and ·7 to 19·8 and 10·2 respectively. In Nadia and Tippera where there were no lapses in 1923-24, the allotments lapsed by 13·6 and 6·02 per cent.

10. Water-supply.—The expenditure under this head rose from Rs. 6·3 lakhs to Rs. 9·9 lakhs. In view of the unusual drought of the year under review, Government desired that the major portion, if not the whole of the augmentation grant annually received by District Boards from Government, should be spent on rural water-supply. That the District Boards generally accepted this suggestion is evidenced by the fact that increased expenditure was incurred by most of them in this respect, specially by the District Boards of Burdwan, Midnapore, Birbhum, Bankura, Nadia, Pabna, Dacca, Howrah, Mymensingh and the 24-Parganas which spent a larger sum on water-supply than the amount of their augmentation grants. The District Board of Burdwan took up the sinking of 216 masonry wells, out of which 126 were completed at a total cost of Rs. 95,338, while Rs. 22,543 was spent by the Asansol Local Board. A sum of Rs. 13,475 was also spent on repairing and clearing wells, besides a further sum of Rs. 2,251 handed over to Union Boards for repairing wells in their respective jurisdiction. All the Local Boards in Midnapore evinced great activity and energy in the execution of projects of water-supply and spent larger amounts than in the preceding year. In Birbhum 18 tanks were re-excavated and 7 wells were completed and 97 wells were in progress, for which a sum of Rs. 10,417 was disbursed during the year. The District Board also spent small sums on iron and bamboo tube-wells and granted loans to Union Boards and private individuals for the re-excavation of tanks. In the 24-Parganas district 319 tube-wells, 20 ring and 7 masonry wells were sunk during the year. The excavation of 8 tanks was completed and 6 tanks were re-excavated and the District Board agreed to grant loans to private individuals for the re-excavation of tanks. In Nadia 47 wells were constructed under the direct supervision of the District Engineer, out of which 16 wells were completed. Sixty-one wells were sunk by the several Local Boards under the new scheme of contribution under which the villagers constructed wells themselves and the Local Boards paid contributions to them. Rupees 29,253 were spent in Jessore on constructing 11 new tanks, 46 new masonry wells and 85 ring wells, and in Khulna 13 tanks, 41 wells and 121 ring wells were completed, besides 19 tanks and 2 masonry wells taken up but not completed during the year. The increase in the expenditure on water-supply was noticeable in Jalpaiguri and Rangpur and was mainly due to the sinking of a larger number of cement concrete ring wells throughout the districts. The Bogra District Board sank 37 tube wells and the Local Boards sank 177 ring wells in different parts of the district. In Dacca the construction of 64 wells and 11 tanks was completed and 107 wells and 8 tanks were undertaken. The Mymensingh District Board took up 254 masonry wells, 3 tiled wells, 24 tube wells, 93 ferro-concrete wells, 4 ring wells and 12 tanks and advanced a sum of Rs. 15,000 as loan to private individuals for excavation and re-excavation of tank. The Hooghly District Board spent Rs. 17,148 in the sinking of tube wells, masonry wells and ring wells and placed contracts for the sinking of 100 tube wells. In Howrah a sum of Rs. 26,204 was spent on 26 deep-seated tube wells, 1 ring well and 10 tanks during the year, of which nearly Rs. 5,000 was paid to Union Boards for re-excavation of tanks. This Board as well as the District Boards of Jalpaiguri and the 24-Parganas, respectively, spent 64·2, 51·6, and 44·3 per cent. of their Public Works Cess receipts on water-supply. The Howrah District Board, however, spent beyond its means and its expenditure is said to have been dictated more by a desire for popularity than a just appreciation of the various needs of the district and of the best ways of supplying them. On the other hand, the expenditure declined considerably in the Bakarganj and Malda districts, where the percentages fell from 24·2 and 39·0 in the previous year to 10·8 and 22·0 respectively. The decrease in the former is attributed to the failure of the Land Acquisition Department to give possession of the sites of tanks, while that in the latter has not been explained. There is a scarcity of good drinking water in all the districts in the Chittagong Division, specially in Noakhali, where no appreciable improvement can be effected owing to lack of funds and the unwillingness of the people to part with the proprietary and fishing rights in the tanks.

Tube wells continued to receive the special attention of several District Boards which took steps to popularise them. Owing to the increase in the number of tube wells in Howrah and the 24-Parganas the District Boards appointed expert whole-time officers to look after the wells in the different parts of the districts.

11. Closing Balance.—The year closed with an actual balance of Rs. 22·5 lakhs against Rs. 23·5 lakhs of the previous year. There were heavy balances in the Burdwan (Rs. 3,33,057), 24-Parganas (Rs. 2,90,573), Mymensingh (Rs. 2,27,323 and Midnapore (Rs. 2,09,317) districts. The large balance in Burdwan is attributed mainly to the excess income under "Cess receipts" which could not be budgeted for expenditure during the year. The heavy balance at the credit of the 24-Parganas District Board represented the unspent balance under "Education", "Medical" and "Civil Works" and included a sum of Rs. 64,000 on account of the non-payment of the interest of the Magrahat drainage loan. The balances left by the Mymensingh and Midnapore districts have not been explained.

12. General Remarks.—Except in the cases of Midnapore where the work suffered to a great extent owing to the absence of a properly qualified District Engineer and Rangpur where party faction was rampant, the administration of District Boards by non-official Chairmen, so far as their funds permit, was on the whole satisfactory. Most of the Chairmen, Vice-Chairmen and members took keen interest in the discharge of their duties even at some sacrifice of their private affairs.

As in the previous years, all the District Boards were handicapped in initiating schemes of rural reconstruction for want of funds. The public constantly requires a higher standard in such matters as education and communications and such improvements can only be obtained by enhanced expenditure. The prevailing unhealthiness of the country, on the other hand, calls for greater attention to water-supply, sanitation and medical relief. If the Boards spend more money for these departments, they have to curtail their expenditure under other heads, their normal income being almost stationary. There seems no immediate prospect of the resources of District Boards being increased to any considerable extent. The only hope seems to be in the formation, throughout the districts, of union boards which, when they learn to impose taxes to meet the elementary needs of the villages, will be likely to bring some financial relief to District Boards.

In spite of their financial difficulties, the District Boards dealt energetically with malaria and kala-azar. Numerous centres for the treatment of malaria and kala-azar have been opened and in some districts anti-malarial societies on co-operative lines have been opened and the Boards have given grants to assist their work. If these societies are encouraged by District Boards providing for careful and constant supervision over their work, much can be expected from them towards the eradication of malaria and kala-azar.

A noticeable feature of the administration of District Boards during the year was the great interest taken by them in improving the water-supply in rural areas. Increased expenditure was incurred in this connection by most of the District Boards, and they seem to have realised the fact that the provision of water-supply in the villages is their paramount duty. They should however at the same time be careful that their desire to respond to the popular outcry is not carried too far, i.e., beyond what they can afford.

No. 51.—The 6th March 1926.—The following draft of rules and schedule of rates of tolls, which, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make and fix, for the Damodar Channel joining the Katcha and Baleswar rivers in the Perojpur subdivision of the Bakarganj district, is hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 22nd April 1926, and any objections or suggestions received before that date will be considered :—

Draft rules and schedule of rates of tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable ; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj, on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below :—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, kosh boats, green boats, etc.

Class II.—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purpose of Act V (B.C.) of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements :—

CLASS I.

A. The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches ; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral muntiple of 12½ maunds, any remainder of less than 12½ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees. The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

CLASS II.

For vessels of Class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting remainder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats, the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance for engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be), be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which must be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

No. 91.—The 6th March 1926.—The following draft of rules and schedule of rates of tolls, which, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make and fix, for the side cut along the Barisal-Patuakhali road, joining Lebukhali and Patuakhali rivers in the Patuakhali subdivision of the Bakarganj district, is hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 22nd April 1926, and any objections or suggestions received before that date will be considered :—

Draft rules and schedule of rates of tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable ; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall divided into two classes as below :—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, kosh boats, green boats, etc.

Class II.—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purpose of Act V (B. C.) of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements :—

CLASS I.

A. The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches ; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 12½ maunds, any remainder of less than 12½ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees.—The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

CLASS II.

For vessel of class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting any reminder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance for engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be), be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which must be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the sarang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket must be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and must be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12 and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Government, District Board, other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the District Board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rates of toll shall be as follows:—

(1) On all vessels, empty or laden, per 100 maunds ...	Eight annas.
(2) On all vessels, empty or laden, for 12½ maunds or less	One anna.
(3) On rafts of bamboos, grass, timber, etc., not exceeding 50 feet in length and five feet in breadth	Four annas each raft.

Tolls will be levied at Lobukhali and Lowkati kismat.

13. For boats frequently using the canal such as boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles monthly tickets will be issued at ten times the ordinary toll.

14. Every vessel which has paid toll shall be allowed to remain in the canal for three days inclusive of the days of entry into and leaving the canal. A vessel remaining in any part of the canal longer than three days shall be charged demurrage equal to one-half of the toll for each day in excess of three days. No vessel shall be permitted to remain in the canal for more than one month. Provided that this rule shall not apply to vessels holding monthly tickets under rule 13 above, which may remain in the canal for more than three days without payment of demurrage but not for more than one month at a time.

15. PART VI.

Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 4th February, 1926 :—

No. 15 of 1926.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Penal Code.

Whereas it is expedient further to amend the Indian Penal Code ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Penal Code (Amendment) Act, 192 . XLV of 1860.

(2) It shall come into force immediately.

Amendment of section 141, Act XLV of 1860.

2. In section 141 of the Indian Penal Code— XLV of 1860.

(i) for clause "Third" the following clause shall be substituted, namely :—

Third :—"To commit any offence punishable under Chapters XVI and XVII" ;

(ii) in clause "Fourth" for the words "to enforce any right or supposed right" the words "to enforce or defend any right to which a person is not entitled" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill is intended to remove the redundancy and ambiguity in two clauses of section 141 of the Indian Penal Code and to set at rest the sharp conflict of decisions between the various High Courts consequent thereupon. In the ensuing Notes on Clauses, reasons are given in support of the amendment.

H. S. GOUR.

The 31st October 1924.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 3 (1).—This clause declares an assembly to be unlawful if its common object is "to commit any mischief or criminal trespass, or other offence". Do the words "or other offence" mean ejusdem generis ? If so, an assembly to commit murder, theft and other offences against the person and property punishable in Chapters XVI and XVII would be excluded. But this was certainly not the intention. On the other hand, if the words "other offence" include an offence not only punishable under the Penal Code, but also under the special or local law, with imprisonment for at least six months (see s. 40), then the sense is obviously too wide. I have elsewhere traced the history of this clause which I have amended in the Bill to mean what the Legislature had really intended. (1 Penal Law, 3rd Ed., p. 758, para. 1274.)

Clause 3 (2).—This is an important clause and its inapt concluding wording has given rise to a crop of cases. It declares an assembly unlawful if its common object is "to enforce any right or supposed right". The meaning of these words is not clear. In the first place, "any right" includes "a supposed right". Suppose, however, that the two are intended to contrast a real from an imaginary right, then does it prevent the enforcement of a real right by the use of force ? If so, the clause contravenes the general exceptions enacted in sections 96—106 which presumably qualify it. The two parts of the Code are really contradictory and it has led to a sharp conflict in the decided cases, reference to which will make this note too long. I have, however, commented on it at greater length elsewhere (1 Penal Law, 3rd Ed., pp. 759—764, paragraphs 1275—1284), and my reasons there given must be my justification for drafting this Bill. I do not consider the retention of "supposed right" happy. For, when a person has no right at all, his supposition is a mere pretext and it has no existence in the eye of the law. The clause was really intended to imply that a person shall not enforce or defend his right to which he is not legally entitled by the use of force. On the other hand, if he has a legal right, its enforcement is legal and safeguarded by the general exceptions (sections 96—106). This is intended to be clarified in the clause as altered in the Bill.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 4th February, 1926 :—

NO. 16 OF 1926.

A Bill to amend certain provisions of the Indian Penal Code relating to offences under Chapters VI and VIII of the said Code.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend certain provisions of the Indian Penal Code relating to offences under Chapters VI and VIII of the said Code; It is hereby enacted as follows :— XLV of 1860.

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Penal Code (Amendment) Act, 192 .

(2) It shall extend throughout the whole of British India, and shall have operation outside British India to the same extent as the Indian Penal Code. XLV of 1860.

Substitution of new section for section 124A, Act XLV of 1860.

2. For section 124A of the Indian Penal Code the following section shall be substituted, namely :— XLV of 1860.

Sedition.

"124A. Whoever by words, either spoken or written, or by signs, or by visible representation, or otherwise, excites, or attempts to excite, feelings of disaffection to the Government established by law in British India, with intent to incite to disorder, or violence, or the use of force in any form calculated to subvert or resist the lawful authority of the Government, shall be punished with simple imprisonment which may extend to three years, or with fine, or with both.

Explanation.—Comments expressing disapprobation of the measures of the Government or of the system or methods of administration of the Government with a view to obtain their alteration by all legitimate and peaceful means, without inciting to violence or disorder in any form, do not constitute an offence under this section."

Substitution of new section for section 153A, Act XLV of 1860.

3. For section 153A of the said Code the following section shall be substituted, namely :—

Promoting enmity between classes.

"153A. Whoever by words, either spoken or written or by signs or visible representation, or otherwise, promotes or attempts to promote feelings of enmity or hatred between different classes with intent to incite to disorder or violence or disturbance of public tranquillity, shall be punished with simple imprisonment which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both.

Explanation.—It does not amount to an offence within the meaning of this section to point out, without malicious intent or any intention to promote violence or disorder or a disturbance of public tranquillity, matters which are producing, or have a tendency to produce, feelings of enmity and hatred between different classes of His Majesty's subjects."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In February 1921, a Resolution was moved and carried in the Council of State urging the examination and the amendment or repeal of all repressive laws on the Indian Statute-book. The Government of India, in March, 1921, appointed a Committee, presided over by Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, to examine certain specified Laws and Regulations of a "repressive" or preventive character and to make recommendations as to their amendment, repeal or continuance in force. The Committee, strictly confining itself to its terms of reference, recommended some of these Acts and Regulations or parts thereof for repeal, while as to others they recommended their retention and application to strictly limited and temporary purposes and conditions. The authorities have, however, in many recent cases applied some of the provisions of these laws in contravention of this recommendation.

The present Bill is one of a series of Bills intended to remove such repressive legislative provisions from the Indian Statute-book, and seeks to amend the Indian Penal Code, in respect of the definition and punishment of the offences of sedition and promoting class hatred.

2. The law of sedition was first defined and incorporated in the Penal Code in 1870 at the instance and on the high authority of Sir Fitz James Stephen. The definition of the offence was made in simple and general terms, followed by an equally general explanation. Its actual scope was then explained by Sir Fitz James Stephen as Law Member, according to the law as it stood and continues to stand in England, in the following clear terms :—

> "So long as a writer or speaker neither directly nor indirectly suggested or intended to produce the use of force, he did not fall within this section * * Let it be shown that the matter complained of was not consistent with a disposition to obey the law ; let it be shown that it was consistent only with a disposition to resist the law by force, and it did fall under this section. Otherwise not."

The Judges to whom fell later the task of interpreting the section, however, construed the scope of the section as extending far beyond the limits intended by the distinguished framers of the section. They were, of course, not bound by the proceedings or speeches made in the Legislative Council and they gave the words a much wider meaning than was indended. Not satisfied with this, the Government further enlarged the scope of the law by the amendment of 1898, which was made in the teeth of the unanimous opposition on the part of the then representatives of the people in the Legislative Council.

3. It is unnecessary to detail here the history of the application at the instance of successive administrations of section 121A of the Penal Code to suppress political agitation in India. It is sufficient to say that, with the acceptance of the policy of responsible Self-Government in India, the restoration of the law of sedition to the position it occupies in other countries and ought to have occupied in India all along, has become imperative.

4. The terms of the proposed amendments in the Bill do not require lengthy explanation.

Clause 2 states the law of sedition in terms of section 124A as it existed in the Act before it assumed its repressive form in 1898 with the addition of a qualifying clause to prevent the extension of its meaning beyond the limits then intended and now followed in all well-governed countries. The limits of justifiable disaffection have been re-defined in the words used by Sir Fitz James Stephen and by the Judges in England. The clause also provides for the only proper punishment that is now imposed in all civilised countries on political offenders for political offences.

Clause 3 defines the law as to the promotion of class hatred on similar lines.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 4th February 1926 :—

No. 25 OF 1926.

A Bill further to amend the Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920, for certain purposes hereinafter appearing ; It is hereby enacted as follows :— XLVII of 1920.

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Imperial Bank of India (Amendment) Act, 192 .

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoint.

Insertion of new clauses in sub-section (2) of section 10, Act XLVII of 1920.

2. After clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 10 of the Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), the following clauses shall be inserted, namely :— XLVII of 1920.

"(c) that from the date of the promulgation of this Act as amended the total number of European Officers shall not at any period exceed the number employed at the time of amalgamation of the Presidency Banks ;

(d) that the London Branch shall provide training for at least 5 Indian graduates from recognised Universities every year."

Amendment of section 28 (1), Act XLVII of 1920.

3. In clause (v) of sub-section (1) of section 28 of the said Act, after the words "Central Board" the words "of whom one at least shall be an Indian" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920, was passed with a view to regulate the relations of the Secretary of State with the then Presidency Banks that were amalgamated with the Imperial Bank. This Bank now practically acts as the State Bank of India and enormous Government balances are entrusted to it. It is not unreasonable to ask that Indians might be given wider opportunities in a Bank of this kind. The Act as amended now will remove some of these standing grievances.

Forecast of the Rabi crops of Bengal for 1925-26.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1923-24, the area under summer rice in Bengal has represented some 0·5 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.

Character of the season.—There was good rainfall in the beginning of October and preparatory tillage and sowings were carried out at normal time. Subsequently a period of drought till the end of the year was detrimental to early spring crops over the greater part of the province. Winter rain improved prospects to some extent but was too late to cause complete recovery. Good showers in March benefited the late-sown crops, especially summer rice and vegetables. On the whole, a fair crop is anticipated.

Acreage.—The normal area under the different rabi crops in the province dealt with in this forecast is estimated at 3,030,900 acres. The area actually sown this year is reported to be 2,733,600 acres as against 2,649,300 acres (revised) last year. Of this, the area under summer (boro) rice is returned at 374,900 acres as against 396,900 acres (revised) last year.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of District Officers, the outturn of the different rabi crops for the province as a whole works out to 76 per cent. of the normal as against 77 per cent. of the last year, the returns from the more important rabi districts being as follows :—

Nadia 65, Murshidabad 58, Jessore 57, Khulna 80, Burdwan 66, Midnapore 75, Rajshahi 59, Jalpaiguri 91, Rangpur and Pabna each 100, Malda 68, Dacca 78, Mymensingh 60, Faridpur 76, Bakarganj 89, Tippera 63 and Noakhali 97.

Summer rice crop.—The outturn of summer rice according to district estimates is 72 per cent. of the normal against 76 per cent. last year. The gross yield of the crops for the province, on the basis of a normal yield of 14 maunds of clean grain per acre, is thus estimated at 138,800 tons this year against 155,100 tons (revised) last year.

ESTABLISHMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 5.—The 8th April 1926.—Babu Surendra Kumar Guha, Assistant Executive Engineer, is transferred in the interests of the public service from the Dredger Division to the Damoodar Canal Subdivision No. I, with effect from the 16th April 1926.

[Sixth publication.]

No. 51.—The 6th March 1926.—The following draft of rules and schedule of rates of tolls, which, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make and fix, for the Damodar Channel joining the Kutcha and Baleswar rivers in the Perojpur subdivision of the Bakarganj district, is hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

II. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 22nd April 1926, and any objections or suggestions received before that date will be considered :—

Draft rules and schedule of rates of tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable ; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj, on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below :—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, kosh boats, green boats, etc.

Class II.—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purpose of Act V (B.C.) of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements :—

CLASS I.

A. The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches ; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral muntiple of 12½ maunds, any remainder of less than 12½ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees. The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

CLASS II.

For vessels of Class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting remainder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats, the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance for engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be), be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which must be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the sarang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket must be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and must be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12 and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Government, District Board, other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the District Board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rates of toll shall be as follows:—

(1) On all vessels empty or laden, per hundred maunds	Eight annas.
(2) On all vessels empty or laden, for 12½ maunds or less	One anna.
(3) On rafts of bamboos, grass, timber, etc., not exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth	Four annas each raft.

Tolls will be levied at Hulerhat and Perojpore.

13. For boats frequently using the canal such as boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles monthly tickets will be issued at 10 times the ordinary toll.

14. Every vessel which has paid toll shall be allowed to remain in the canal for three days inclusive of the days of entry into and leaving the canal. A vessel remaining in any part of the canal longer than three days shall be charged demurrage equal to one-half of the toll for each day in excess of three days. No vessel shall be permitted to remain in the canal for more than one month. Provided that this rule shall not apply to vessels holding monthly tickets under rule 13 above, which may remain in the canal for more than three days without payment of demurrage but not for more than one month at a time.

15. No vessel carrying exclusively police officers or servants, soldiers and officers of the British Army, post mail runners, officers of the Irrigation Department on duty, officers and servants of the toll office for the canal referred to in these rules while on duty, or the vessels of such other persons as may be exempted by a resolution of the District Board of Bakarganj, shall be liable for toll in the canal.

16. Any matter relating to the mode of collection of tolls and other relevent points, not provided for in these rules, shall be decided by the District Board of Bakarganj at a meeting, and shall be subject to the approval of the local Government.

No. 91.—The 6th March 1926.—The following draft of rules and schedule of rates of tolls, which, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council intends to make and fix, for the side cut along the Barisal-Patuakhali road, joining Lebukhali and Patuakhali rivers in the Patuakhali subdivision of the Bakarganj district, is hereby published for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby.

2. The draft will be taken into consideration on or after the 22nd April 1926, and any objections or suggestions received before that date will be considered:—

Draft rules and schedule of rates of tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below :—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, kosh boats, green boats, etc.

Class II.—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purpose of Act V (B. C.) of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements :—

CLASS I.

A. The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches ; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 12½ maunds, any remainder of less than 12½ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees.—The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

CLASS II.

For vessel of class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one-half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting any reminder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance for engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be), be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which must be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the sarang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket must be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and must be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12 and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Government, District Board, other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the District Board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given ; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rates of toll shall be as follows:—

(1) On all vessels, empty or laden, per 100 maunds ...	Eight annas.
(2) On all vessels, empty or laden, for $12\frac{1}{2}$ maunds or less	One anna.
(3) On rafts of bamboos, grass, timber, etc., not exceeding 50 feet in length and five feet in breadth	Four annas each raft.

Tolls will be levied at Lebukhali and Lowkati kismat.

13. For boats frequently using the canal such as boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles monthly tickets will be issued at ten times the ordinary toll.

14. Every vessel which has paid toll shall be allowed to remain in the canal for three days inclusive of the days of entry into and leaving the canal. A vessel remaining in any part of the canal longer than three days shall be charged demurrage equal to one-half of the toll for each day in excess of three days. No vessel shall be permitted to remain in the canal for more than one month. Provided that this rule shall not apply to vessels holding monthly tickets under rule 13 above, which may remain in the canal for more than three days without payment of demurrage but not for more than one month at a time.

15. No vessel carrying exclusively police officers or servants, soldiers and officers of the British Army, post mail runners, officers of the Irrigation Department on duty, officers and servants of the toll office for the canal referred to in these rules while on duty, or the vessels of such other persons as may be exempted by a resolution of the District Board of Bakarganj, shall be liable for toll in the canal.

16. Any matter relating to the mode of collection of tolls and other relevant points, not provided for in these rules, shall be decided by the District Board of Bakarganj at a meeting, and shall be subject to the approval of the local Government.

PART VI.

Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 4th February, 1926 :—

No. 11 OF 1926.

A Bill to repeal and amend certain provisions of the Indian Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1908, and the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend certain provisions of the Indian Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1908, and of section 491 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898; It is hereby enacted as follows :— (XIV of 1908. V of 1898.)

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Criminal Law Repealing and Amending Act, 192 .

Amendment of section 15, Act XIV of 1908.

2. Sub-clause (b) of clause (2) of section 15 of the Indian Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1908 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), is hereby repealed. (XIV of 1908.)

Insertion of new section 16A in Act XIV of 1908.

3. After section 16 of the said Act the following section shall be inserted, namely :—

Appeal to the High Court.

"16A. Any person deeming himself aggrieved by an order of the Governor General in Council declaring such association to be unlawful, and any person convicted under the provisions of section 17 may appeal to the High Court on the ground that the declaration should never have been made".

Amendment of section 491, Act V of 1898.

4. In sub-section (3) of section 491 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, after the words "Nothing in this section applies to persons" the following shall be inserted, namely :— (V of 1898.)

"other than British subjects".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

(1) By Resolution No. 533 Political, dated the 21st March, 1921, a Committee was appointed to examine certain repressive laws. The Committee issued its report in the course of which it recommended their repeal but counselled for the nonce the retention of Part II of the Indian Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1908, adding that it may be possible for the Government to undertake the necessary legislation for their repeal during the Delhi session of 1922. (See paragraph 26, sub-paragraph 2, of the Report.) As the Government did not undertake the necessary legislation, I introduced a Bill for the repeal of Part II of the Indian Criminal Law Amendment Act. It was passed on the 23rd September, 1924, by 71 to 40 votes, the Government opposing it. The Bill was next sent to the Council of State for their concurrence, but that body has rejected it. It is proposed, for the present, to introduce this revised measure in the hope that it might be acceptable to Government.

(2) The provisions of section 491 of the Code of Criminal Procedure are in the nature of Habeas Corpus controlled in England by the Habeas Corpus Act of 1679, the operation of which can only be temporarily suspended by the Legislature on the ground of urgent political necessity. (See 10 Halsbury's Laws of England, s. 98, p. 44.) The Habeas Corpus Act merely re-enacts the 29th section of the Magna Charta which provides that no person shall be taken or imprisoned unless by lawful judgment of his Peers or the law of the land. "The King," said Chief Justice Markam, "cannot arrest a man upon suspicion of felony or treason, as any of his subjects may; because if he should wrong a man by such arrest, he can have no remedy against him." [See Hallam's Constitutional History of England, Ch. VII, page 274 (Ward Lock & Co.).] In England the Habeas Corpus Act is a bulwark of the people's liberties. Its corresponding provisions in this country should give at least the British subjects in India a similar protection.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 4th February, 1926:—

No. 12 OF 1926.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for certain purposes.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for certain purposes hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:— V of 1898.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 19 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force as soon as it receives the assent of the Governor General.

Amendment of section 367, Act V of 1898.

2. In section 367 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for sub-section (5) the following shall be substituted, namely:— V of 1898.

"(5) If the accused is convicted of an offence punishable with death or with an alternative punishment and the Court sentences him to death, the Court shall in its judgment state the reason why sentence of death was passed."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of the Bill is not the total abolition of capital punishment, but to enact that it shall not be imposed except where it is absolutely needed in the circumstances of the case. Under the present law death sentence is the rule and the alternative the exception. Humanity requires that death sentence shall not be pronounced unless the Court considers it to be the only appropriate punishment in the case. There are, moreover, good reasons to believe that there are Judges who feel conscientious objections to pronounce sentence of death in some cases where under the law they have no alternative. It is desirable to enable them to pass such sentence under the law which their conscience and judgment dictate.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 4th February 1926 :—

No. 18 OF 1926.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend Chapter XXXVII of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, relating to directions in the nature of a Habeas Corpus; It is hereby enacted as follows :— V of 1898.

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 192 .

(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India.

Amendment of section 491, Act V of 1898.

2. For sub-section (3) of section 491 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely :— V of 1898.

"(3) When a British Indian subject is detained by any authority otherwise than under a judicial order of any Court in British India, he shall be produced by such authority on an application made by the person so detained or on his behalf to the High Court or Sessions Court within whose jurisdiction the person was arrested, ordinarily resides or is detained, and, if such Court thinks that there is no just ground for his detention under the law under which he is said to be detained, he shall be forthwith set at liberty :

Provided that the operation of the provisions of the sub-section may be suspended in British India or in any part of it by the Governor General in Council by a notification in the Gazette of India in cases of grave emergency; such suspension shall cease to have any force if the assent of both Chambers of the Indian Legislature is not obtained within two months of the date of notification."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

There is no law like the Habeas Corpus Act for securing the liberty of person of His Majesty's British Indian subjects against unlawful or unjustifiable detentions except the meagre provision contained in section 491 of Act V of 1898. In England, in any matter involving the liberty of the subject, the action of the Crown, of its ministers or high officials of the Privy Council or the Executive Government, is subject to the supervision and control of the Judges on Habeas Corpus. It is a remedy available to the meanest subject against the most powerful, and the writ is applicable as a remedy in all cases of wrongful deprivation of personal liberty. It is but just and proper that there should be some analogous provision for the protection of the liberty of person of His Majesty's British Indian subjects in India. The necessity for amending the law has been occasioned by the arbitrary exercise of its powers of detention under various laws by Executive authorities in recent times. The amendment provides for a judicial pronouncement on the justifiability or otherwise of executive acts. It is said that papers of all cases of such detention are placed before two Sessions Judges, and the proposed amendment only seeks to give a statutory sanction to the practice said to be in vogue. Provision has also been made in the proposed Bill for suspension of the whole or a portion of the section in cases of grave emergency by the Governor General in Council in or any part of British India, and excludes all cases where there has been any judicial order for detention.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 4th February, 1926 :—

No. 19 OF 1926.

A Bill further to amend the Specific Relief Act, 1877.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Specific Relief Act, 1877, for certain purposes ; It is hereby enacted as follows :— I of 1877.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Specific Relief (Amendmend) Act, 192 .

Amendment of section 45, Act I of 1877.

2. In section 45 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act),— I of 1877.

(a) for the words "Any of the High Courts of Judicature at Fort William, Madras, Bombay and Rangoon" the words "Any Court of final appellate jurisdiction in British India, hereinafter called the High Court," shall be substituted ; and

(b) the word "local" and the word "original" shall be omitted.

Substitution of new section for section 48, Act I of 1877.

3. For section 48 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely :—

Execution of, and appeals from orders.

"48. (1) Every order under this Chapter made by any of the High Courts of Judicature at Fort William, Madras, Bombay and Rangoon may be executed and appealed from, as if it were a decree made in the exercise of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Court.

(2) Where an order under this Chapter is made by a single Judge of any other High Court, an appeal shall lie to a Bench of such Court where such High Court consists of not less than three Judges and, in any other case, to such High Court as the Governor General in Council may by rule prescribe.

The appeal shall be heard by a Bench of two or more Judges, and shall be decided in accordance with the opinion of such Judges or of the majority, if any, of them ; but if the Judges shall be equally divided, the opinion of the senior Judge shall prevail.

Every order under this clause shall be executed as if it were a decree made by the principal Civil Court exercising original jurisdiction over the locality in which the person against whom such order is made holds public office or the corporation or the inferior Court of Judicature is situate or carries on business."

Amendment of section 51, Act I of 1877.

4. In section 51 of the said Act, for the words "Each of the said High Courts" the words "The High Court" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Till 1877 the High Courts at Madras, Bombay and Calcutta possessed the power of issuing writs of Mandamus which they inherited from the Supreme Courts in the three Presidency-towns. This power was taken away by section 50 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877. In lieu of this power, the High Courts at Bombay, Calcutta and Madras were empowered under section 45 of the Act to make an order, requiring any specific act to be done or foreborne within the local limits of their ordinary original civil jurisdiction, by any person holding a public office or by any corporation or any inferior Court of Judicature. The enforcement of public duties under section 45 is thus confined to cases arising within the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the three High Courts mentioned above. A High Court for Burma has been recently established and original civil jurisdiction has been conferred on this Court, and section 45 has been extended also to this High Court. High Courts have also been established at Allahabad, Lahore and Patna, but they have no original civil jurisdiction. It has been felt for a long time that the summary remedy under section 45 for the enforcement of public duties should be extended to cases arising beyond the local limits of the original civil jurisdiction of the three Presidency High Courts. The jurisdiction under section 45 has been invoked in the Presidency-towns for various purposes and writs of Mandamus under section 45 were granted against Municipal authorities for the establishment of claims to be entered on the electoral rolls (19 C. W. N., I. L. R. 39 Calcutta 598), for compelling the Chairman of the Presidency Municipal Corporation to dispose of applications for building according to the bye-laws (I. L. R. 40 Calcutta 836), for compelling the Commissioner of Police to issue a license under the City Police Act for conducting processions (31 M. L. J. 426), for compelling a Presidency Magistrate to furnish copies of deposition (15 C. W. N. 770), for compelling the University authorities to act in conformity with the regulations (I. L. R. 23 Bombay 465, I. L. R. 40 Madras 125), for directing the Chief Commissioner of Income-tax to state a case for the decision of the High Court (I. L. R. 47 Bombay 782), for directing the Collector to refer a case to the Chief Judge of the Court of Small Causes (20 Madras Law Times, 389). It is unnecessary to refer to other cases. The classes of cases requiring summary relief similar to that granted in the above cases in the Presidency-towns also occur very often outside the Presidency-towns. The extension of the electoral system in the various local bodies and the Legislatures has brought into existence a large number of officials with various public duties and a prompt remedy for the enforcement of these duties is not now available. It is therefore proposed in this Bill to extend the powers of the three Presidency High Courts and of the High Court at Rangoon under section 45 to cases arising beyond the limits of their ordinary original civil jurisdiction and also to amend the provisions of section 45 so as to enable the other High Courts of Judicature in India and the Judicial Commissioners' Courts to exercise the power conferred by section 45 for the enforcement of public duties.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 4th February 1926 :—

NO. 21 OF 1926.

A Bill to prohibit the export of cattle.

WHEREAS it is expedient to remove preventible causes for the shortage of agricultural cattle and reduction of the milk supply in British India ; and whereas the overseas trade in cattle has appreciably contributed to the said shortage of agricultural cattle and the said reduction of the milk supply ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Prohibition of Export of Cattle Act, 192 .

(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on the 192 .

Definition.

2. "Cattle" shall mean and include cows, bulls, bullocks and buffaloes as well as their calves.

Offence.

3. Whoever exports or carries coastwise cattle from British India or carries such cattle by road, rail, water or air within British India for the purpose of such export or carrying coastwise and whoever abets the commission of any of the said acts shall be guilty of an offence under this Act and shall be punished with imprisonment which may extend to six months or with fine or with both.

Forfeiture.

4. On conviction for an offence under this Act the cattle in respect of which the offence is committed shall be forfeited.

Offence cognisable and bailable

5. All offences under this Act shall be cognisable and bailable and shall be triable in the manner prescribed for warrant cases by a Magistrate of the first class.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

India is mainly an agricultural country. Cattle are essential to the agriculturist and milk to the great bulk of the population. A large number of cattle has of late been exported every year, for the purposes of the trade. This has naturally appreciably raised the prices of cattle and milk. The scarcity of milk is a serious hardship upon the people in general, but its evil results have been most felt in the case of infants. The great rise in infant mortality during recent years has been distressing. The object of this Bill is to combat these growing evils to some extent by penalising export trade in cattle.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 4th February, 1926 :—

No. 23 OF 1926.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend Chapter XI of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, relating to the powers of Magistrates to issue temporary orders in urgent cases of nuisance or apprehended danger and to provide for appeals in respect of such orders; It is hereby enacted as follows :— V of 1898.

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 192 .

(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India.

Amendment of section 144, Act V of 1898.

2. (1) In section 144 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, after sub-section (3) the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely :— V of 1898.

"(3-A) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, no order under this section shall be made by a Magistrate so as to restrict the right of any person or persons to convene, attend or take part in any public or political meeting, association, procession or other demonstration, unless the Magistrate finds on evidence duly recorded that such direction is necessary to prevent obstruction, annoyance or injury to any person lawfully employed, or danger to human life, health or safety or a disturbance of the public tranquillity, or a riot, or an affray :

Provided that—

(a) no ex parte order shall be passed by a Magistrate in such cases without evidence duly recorded ; and

(b) no such order, if made ex parte, shall remain in force for a longer period than forty-eight hours."

(2) To the same section, after sub-section (6) the following sub-section shall be added, namely :—

"(7) An appeal shall lie from an order passed under sub-section (6) to the Court of Session."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Recent events connected with the use of the provisions of section 144 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for the purpose of imposing restrictions of all kinds on political workers and political propaganda with the object of countering political agitation whenever and wherever the authorities deem fit to do so, have disclosed the need for a re-definition of the law of preventive action in emergencies which was originally embodied in the section solely for the benefit of the community and only in urgent cases of nuisance or apprehended danger.

2. Section 144 of the Code of Criminal Procedure constitutes an entire Chapter (XI) whose object is, in the words of the Code, to provide for "Temporary Orders in Urgent Cases of Nuisance or Apprehended Danger". The words of the section were, from the very nature of the entirely temporary action contemplated, made very general and the discretion left to the Magistrates for the purpose was also correspondingly wide. But the extraordinary and indiscriminate applications of the section that have taken place since 1921 on such a large scale for the purpose of suppressing political agitation, is a matter which could not have been foreseen. In any case, the revision of the terms of the section so as to clearly define and restrict the powers of Magistrates and to provide adequate safeguards for the protection of the rights of the public and of individuals, is clearly called for. The present Bill is intended to effect this purpose.

Clause 2 seeks to insert a sub-section (3-A) of section 144 providing that in cases where orders under the section are restrictive of the rights of free speech, association or public meeting, the orders shall be based on evidence duly recorded and that ex parte orders shall not have force for more than forty-eight hours from the passing thereof. The clause also provides that all orders made in respect of cases under sub-section (6) of the section shall be appealable to the Court of Session.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 4th February, 1926 :—

No. 24 OF 1926.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Evidence Act, 1872.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend certain provisions of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, hereinafter appearing ; It is hereby enacted as follows :— I of 1872.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Evidence (Amendment) Act, 192 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, and applies to all judicial proceedings in or before any Court, including Courts martial, but not to proceedings before an arbitrator.

(3) It shall come into force as soon as it receives the assent of the Governor General.

Amendment of sections 126, 127 and 128, Act I of 1872.

2. (1) In sections 126 and 128 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, for the words "barrister, attorney, pleader or vakil", the words "barrister, pleader, attorney, or vakil", and the words "barrister, attorney, or vakil", wherever they occur, the following shall be substituted, namely :— I of 1872.

"barrister, advocate, vakil, attorney, pleader, mukhtar or revenue agent."

(2) In section 127 of the said Act, for the words "barristers, pleaders, attorneys and vakils" the words "barristers, advocates, vakils, attorneys, pleaders, mukhtars and revenue agents" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Indian Evidence Act, 1872, follows the principle of English law of excluding on grounds of public policy professional confidential communications which take place between a client and his professional legal adviser. The words used in the Act are "barristers, attorneys, vakils and pleaders", the last word "pleaders" having been added in the proviso to section 126 and in section 128 by section 10 of the amending Act XVIII of 1872. The words "mukhtar or revenue agent" are not mentioned. In section 129 of the Act, however, confidential communications between the client and his professional legal adviser are protected from disclosure. It would be difficult to interpret "professional legal adviser" as excluding "mukhtar or revenue agent"; but Magistrates have been known to refuse to allow communications made in confidence to mukhtars during the course of their employment as mukhtars on the ground that "mukhtar" is not mentioned in section 126 of the Act. It may be that the restrictive interpretation thus placed on the section is correct, regard being had to the fact that the "mukhtar" and "the revenue agent" had no recognised professional status at the time the Evidence Act was passed, as reference to the existing Pleaders and Mukhtars Act XX of 1865 and the Criminal Procedure Code of 1872 which was enacted during the same year shows. But whatever may have been the reason of omission of the words "mukhtar or revenue agent" from section 126 of the Evidence Act, it is obvious that at present it would defeat the object of the law if confidential communications made to mukhtars and revenue agents in their professional capacity are not protected from disclosure. The mukhtar has now got a recognised professional status, and it is well known that he has independent charge of the conduct of criminal cases in the Mufassil in the Magistrate's Courts in the majority of cases, besides being almost always engaged for instructing vakils or pleaders in the more important cases, and it would certainly be anomalous that they can disclose confidential communications while the same would be protected if made to "clerks and servants" of pleaders or vakils. This Bill proposes to remove this anomaly.

13. The High Court may, after previous publication, make rules—

(a) for the publication under section 5 of notices of applications made to the Court ;

(b) for the procedure to be followed in the hearing of applications and the conduct of sales of estates under this Act ;

(c) for the payment of costs under section 11 ; and

(d) generally for giving effect to the provisions of this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It is now settled by a long course of decisions of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council and the Courts in India that a Hindu widow takes only a restricted estate in the property of her husband, and that at her death such property passes to the heirs of her husband except as to such portion as may have been alienated by her for legal necessity. Alienations of her husband's estate or portions thereof for legal necessity, which includes the payment of her husband's debts and other charges on the estate such as the payment of maintenance to female members of the family, debts incurred by the widow for her own maintenance, debts incurred for the funeral obsequies of her husband and for other primary religious purposes are valid and bind the actual reversioner succeeding to the estate on the death of the widow. The propriety of these transactions is generally called into question only after the death of the widow several years after they are entered into, when most of the evidence in regard to them had disappeared. This has operated very much both to the detriment of the widow and the purchasers. Even in cases where the widow had to dispose of the whole of her husband's estate or such portion as may be necessary for purposes recognized by law as affording a justification, the widow is not able in most cases to realize the full value of the property. The intending purchaser has at present no guarantee whatever that the transaction will not be called into question after the death of the widow, and the widow is therefore driven to dispose of the property at much below its fair price which it would have fetched had the disposition been by a full owner. On the other hand, the purchaser is still liable to be sued by the reversioner after the death of the widow and the burden of making out the validity of the transaction is thrown on him many years after it takes place. Under the provisions of the Settled Estates Act, 1877 (40 & 41 Vict., Ch. 18), and the Settled Land Act, 1882 (45 and 46 Vict., Ch. 38), tenants for life and other limited owners are enabled to dispose of their properties under supervision of the Court after an inquiry in the presence of all parties interested in the reversion. These legislative safeguards existing under the English Law afford the necessary protection to the purchasers from limited owners who are also thereby enabled to realise the full value of the properties sold. There are no legal facilities of the kind in this country in regard to limited owners, though there are analogous provisions in the Indian Acts, in regard to transfers of property by trustees and mortgagees, executors and administrators and guardians of minors. The existing state of things has made the position of the widow, burdened with the debts of her husband and anxious to save at least a portion of her husband's estate, very irksome. A large class of land suits in this country are by reversioners against limited owners and their vendees or against vendees after the death of the limited owner, calling in question the validity of the transactions entered into between them. Without interfering in any way with the existing law, it is proposed in the present Bill to authorise limited owners to apply to the Court for permission for the sale of the property inherited by them after full inquiry in the presence of the presumptive reversioners and for the application of the sale-proceeds for the liquidation of all debts and charges binding on the estate. It is open to the widow to take proceedings under the Act, but when once that is done, finality is given to the transaction under clause 10 and it cannot be questioned by the reversioner who may be alive at the death of the widow or by any other person. The procedure provided in the Bill will, it is believed, greatly reduce litigation by Hindu reversionary heirs, promote the speedy realization of all inquiry into all the grounds of alleged necessity, as early as possible, after the death of the full owner, secure better prices for the properties inherited by limited owners wherever it is necessary to sell them, and afford ample protection to purchasers from future harassing litigation and enable them to improve substantially the properties so purchased without the fear of being deprived of them by reversioners.

2. It is often beneficial and even necessary in many cases for the limited owner to exchange a portion of the deceased male owner's property for other property. If the party entering into the transaction were a full owner, he could effect the exchange without any difficulty, but there is a legal impediment in the way of the widow or other limited owner doing the same. The Hindu Law does not authorise a transfer by way of exchange by a limited owner, and it has been held that she cannot make an alienation of the estate in order to improve it or even to develop the estate (I. L. R. 32 Bombay 577). It has been held that the debt incurred for the construction of a house which is not necessary for the management of the estate does not bind the reversion (I. L. R. 35 Madras 560). For better enjoyment and amenity, it is often necessary to enter into these transactions and a limited owner should not be placed at a disadvantage in this respect. Accordingly it is proposed in the Bill that, with the sanction of the Court and after a full inquiry, limited owners may be permitted to enter into these transaction, the new property being burdened with the same incidents and restrictions.

3. The Law in regard to mortgages by limited owners is equally unsatisfactory. In executing mortgages it has been the usual practice of the country to merely mention the particular legal necessity which has compelled the widow to borrow funds without expressly specifying whether her own life interest or the entire estate is hypothecated. It is open to the widow to pledge her own limited interest even for debts binding on the estate or to make it clear that she intends to bind the entire estate of the last male owner for the amount secured by the mortgage. The question is more often raised only after a sale is held in execution proceedings. To find out what interest has actually passed to the purchaser, it has been held that the pleadings the documents sued on, the decree and all subsequent execution, records and proceedings will have to be scrutinized by the Court with a view to ascertain the intention of the parties. (I. L. R., 34 Madras, 188, I. L. R., 37 Madras, 22 Calcutta Law Journal 23, I. L. R., 30, Allahabad 394, I. L. R. 26 Bombay 206.) There is therefore a great deal of uncertainty in finding out the interest disposed of at Court sale where limited owners such as a widow or a daughter are judgment-debtors.

It is proposed in the present Bill to empower, with the permission of the Court, the limited owner to execute a mortgage or lease for any purpose binding on the estate and that in that event the mortgage or lease will have the same effect as if it were executed by the last full owner. It is sometimes necessary to grant mining or quarrying leases for terms which may extend beyond the life time of the limited owner. The limited owner, the mortgage and the leases will, it is expected, be placed in a better position by the provisions of this Bill, and intending purchasers will be relieved of the difficulties and pitfalls now existing in regard to execution sales.

4. A Bill on the lines of the present Bill was introduced by me in the Madras Legislative Council in 1915, and was referred by the Government of Madras to the Madras High Court and to various associations and individuals for opinion. The Hindu Judges of the High Court, Messrs. Justices Kumaraswamy Sastry, Sadasiva Iyer, Seshagiri Iyer, supported the principle of the Bill and suggested various amendments in detail. Sir S. Subramania Iyer, a retired Judge of the Madras High Court, and Sir P. Sivaswamy Iyer, also supported the Bill and various associations and individuals gave their approval. The Government of Madras also supported the Bill and sought the sanction of the Government of India to proceed with the measure.

The latter were, however, of opinion, that as the Bill dealt with a question of Hindu Law applicable to more than one Province, it should be enacted in the Imperial Council, but before coming to a final conclusion they referred the Bill to other Local Governments for eliciting opinion on the general principle of the Bill and also as to whether the Bill should be proceeded with in the Madras Legislative Council or in the Imperial Council. The Bombay Government accordingly obtained opinions on the Bill from the non-official members of the Bombay Legislative Council, and also from a number of associations and the senior Judicial and Revenue officers of the Presidency. The Chief Justice and the other Judges of the Bombay High Court approved of the general principle of the Bill. Sir Frank Beaman of the Bombay High Court expressed the opinion that the provisions of the Bill should be made compulsory and Mr. Justice Marten of the same High Court was of opinion that it should be extended to other cases besides those of Hindu widows. The Government of Bombay summarised the opinion received in the following words: "Opinion is much divided over the Bill. The evil which the Bill aims at preventing admittedly exists to a serious extent in this Presidency, and the principle of the Bill is widely approved, the High Court and all the associations consulted being in favour of the Bill generally. But the opinion is largely held, particularly among individual members of the legal profession, that the Bill, if passed into law, is likely to substitute other evils for those now existing."

In the United Provinces, Sir P. C. Banerjee, of the Allahabad High Court, recorded the following opinion: "I think the Bill is a desirable one, and will afford protection to bona fide transferees who, after the lapse of many years, find it difficult to prove the existence of legal necessity. It is likely to reduce litigation and will in many ways prove a beneficial measure. The legislation should be Imperial and not Provincial." The Honourable Chief Justice and the other Honourable Judges of the Allahabad High Court concurred with this opinion.

The two Judicial Commissioners of Oudh approved of the principle of the Bill. In Bengal, there was no unanimity of opinion in regard to the necessity of the measure, and the Governor in Council was not prepared to support the introduction of the measure in the Imperial Council, but he did not see any objection to the introduction of the measure in the Madras Legislative Council if there was a demand for such legislation.

The Government of Bihar and Orissa reported that the principles underlying the proposed legislation received the support of many of the Judicial officers. It will therefore be seen that the principle of the Bill has already received considerable support in the country. The Government of India raised some objections to the measure, but eventually came to the conclusion that, if the measure is to be proceeded with, the Imperial Council was the proper place for its introduction. The further progress of the Bill in the Madras Legislative Council was, therefore, abandoned.

5. A few explanatory remarks on the clauses of the Bill are added hereunder :—

Clause 1.—By section 4 of the Madras Impartible Estates Act the position of the proprietor is defined as analogous to that of the managing member of a joint Hindu family and the classes of alienations permissible to the proprietors of the states governed by that Act are expressly mentioned. It is therefore explicitly stated in the explanation that the Bill does not apply to the states governed by that Act.

Clause 2.—It is considered advisable that the applications for transfer should not be made to Courts inferior to District Courts.

Clause 3.—This clause enables the Court on the application of the limited owner to sanction transfers after due inquiry. The existing law in regard to the jurisdiction of the Courts in suits for possession of immoveable property will, according to the definition apply to the applications to the Court for sanction to transfer the estate or part thereof.

Clauses 4 to 6.—These clauses lay down the procedure of the Court in dealing with the application for permission to a limited owner to transfer the estate. They are intended to secure a full and fair disclosure of the condition of affairs and to secure a fair hearing for all parties interested in the matter. These provisions are analogous to those contained in the Guardian and Wards Act dealing with the applications by guardians for obtaining the sanction of the Court for the disposal of the properties of their wards and to the procedure provided under the Settled Estates Act, 1877, and the Settled Land Act, 1882, in the applications for sale under the orders of the Court of properties in the enjoyment of limited owners.

Clause 7.—It is desirable that the Court should have a wide latitude in dealing with the matters under consideration. It is therefore proposed to give ample power to the Court in dealing with application by limited owners for sanctioning transfers. A Hindu widow not being a trustee, it is not proposed to fetter her liberty of action in dealing with the property or with the application of the funds realized by the transfer. At the same time there may be cases where the widow and the intended transferee may desire to have the amount disbursed through the Court, or where the Court itself may come to the conclusion that it is desirable that the transaction should be completed under its control. This clause makes provision for these cases, while at the same time not unduly interfering with the limited owner's power in regard to properties in her enjoyment.

Clause 8.—This is a useful provision which will enable the Court to deal more effectually with the transfer of properties subject to mortgages or other encumbrances. It is similar to the provision in the Code of Civil Procedure dealing with suits relating to mortgage of immoveable property.

Clauses 10 to 13.—These clauses define the nature of the interest transferred when a transfer takes place with the sanction of the Court, and are required for the protection of purchasers and to secure finality to transaction entered into by limited owners with the approval of the Court.

RESOLUTION—No. 1231Edn.

CALCUTTA, THE 22ND MARCH 1926.

READ—

The Interim and the Final Reports of the Dacca Technical and Vocational Education Committee.

In July 1922, the Government of Bengal appointed a Committee to advise on the question of the introduction of technical and vocational education in the schools and colleges of this Presidency. The resolution appointing the Committee emphasised the fact that the purely literary education, so long imparted, no longer offers the chance of a decent livelihood to the young men of this country, and that the demand for a system which will hold out better prospects has in consequence grown more and more insistent. The schemes to be evolved by the Committee were, when fully developed, to be introduced in the educational institutions of Dacca in the first instance and, if successful, were to be extended to other parts of the province.

2. The Committee submitted their report in January 1924. In discharging the task entrusted to them the Committee have proceeded from the standpoint that it would be useless to offer vocational education for vocations that do not exist or that are not likely to be created in Bengal. Their report deals separately with the subjects to be taught in the various classes of institutions. The Committee's recommendations have been carefully considered by Government and the decision arrived at in respect of each recommendation is indicated below. The Governor in Council takes this opportunity of recording his high appreciation of the manner in which Dr. P. J. Hartog (now Sir Philip Hartog) and his colleagues have investigated this intricate problem and of the exceedingly valuable report which they have presented.

3. High Schools and Madrasahs.—In the resolution appointing the Committee it was recognised by Government that, so far as secondary schools are concerned, all that could be attempted was to give a bias towards practical education and that, while the training of the hand and eye would be the main object to be kept in view, advantage would be taken of the course followed in the manual training classes to teach a boy a definite craft likely to prove useful to him in after life, whether he took up a University career or not. Thus while the Committee had to consider vocational education in its true sense in connection with intermediate colleges and the University, they had to consider only a preliminary hand and eye training in the schools. Their recommendations, so far as they relate to training in high schools and madrasahs, together with the views of Government thereon, are set forth in the following paragraphs.

4. The Committee recommend that drawing should be made compulsory in classes III and IV of high schools in which the ages of the boys vary from eight to ten years, but that boys who show no taste for drawing should not be forced to continue it in the higher classes. Probably the age of ten is too early to decide whether a boy has an aptitude for drawing or not; Government therefore consider drawing should be compulsory up to class VI and will bring this recommendation to the notice of the Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Dacca.

5. In the opinion of the Committee one of the obstacles in the way of manual employment among the middle classes in Bengal is physical weakness. They therefore recommend that, with a view to increased general fitness for manual occupations, drill should be made compulsory in classes IV to VII of all secondary schools. This proposal is of course sound but does not go far enough. Government consider that drill should be made compulsory for all classes in secondary schools for the sake both of its physical and moral effect. A physical adviser is employed under the Government of Bengal. Given the necessary funds, he could train a sufficient number of drill masters in due course. In addition to this boy scouting should be encouraged. This movement has already made some progress in Bengal and funds are being provided from the provincial revenues for its gradual introduction into Government and aided high schools in the province.

6. The Committee feel unable to recommend manual work as a separate correlated subject in the school course below class VIII. But boys of junior classes still need "hand and eye" training and the Committee, in view of the objects with which they were appointed, feel bound to provide for this. They therefore suggest that in classes IV to VII of high schools hand work should be introduced to illustrate the teaching of such subjects as history, geography, etc., a suggestion welcomed by Government.

7. The Committee propose that manual training as a non-examination subject should be introduced in classes VIII and IX of high schools and high madrasahs in Dacca and that the training should be given mainly at a central workshop. In the workshop they provide for three forms of manual training, wood work, fitter's work and sheet metal work. The Committee do not exclude other forms of practical training which may be provided at particular schools if the school authorities can meet the expense; but, as it is unlikely that Dacca schools will be able to afford to do so, the Committee have worked out a scheme for all the Dacca schools in connection with the central workshop. They have given estimates of cost for a central workshop. The total capital expenditure is estimated at Rs. 50,305, exclusive of the cost of site, and the total recurring expenditure at Rs. 31,690. The scheme is thus, having regard to the small number of schools affected, an expensive one and Government cannot possibly be expected to shoulder the whole burden. Special fees must meet part of the cost. Subject to this reservation the scheme would be acceptable to Government when funds are available.

8. As an extension of this proposal, the Committee further recommend that a limited number of pupils, out of those who have been trained in classes VIII or IX, should be permitted in class X to take a more advanced course of manual training, as an examination subject, in one or more of the subjects, which they have been learning in the two previous classes. These pupils might take their training in the central workshop on Saturdays which would otherwise be left free. The Committee propose the following special matriculation or high school examination scheme for boys taking this subject :—

Vernacular	... ...	1 paper.
English	... ...	2 papers.
Mathematics (General)	... ...	1 paper.
Ditto (Applied)	... ...	1 do.
Drawing	... .	1 do.
Manual Training equivalent to	... ...	2 papers.

The Committee suggest that after passing this examination students should be permitted either to enter the Dacca School of Engineering or to proceed to one of the Intermediate Colleges and take the ordinary intermediate science course or the mechanical course at the Dacca Intermediate College, which has been proposed by the Committee. This scheme appears to be on sound lines, and Government will bring it to the notice of the Dacca Board. The scheme cannot, however, be started till the central workshop has been established.

9. The Committee regard it as of great importance that sufficient science should be taught in secondary schools to enable boys to discover whether they have an aptitude for science and to give some preliminary knowledge of the subject to those who have already discovered such a bent. They therefore propose that for students who wish to proceed to higher technological studies the following special course should be provided for the high school examination :—

Vernacular	... ...	1 paper.
English	... ...	2 papers.
Pure Mathematics	... ...	1 paper.
Applied Mathematics	...	1 do.
Elementary Science	... ...	1 do.
Drawing and Practical Geometry	...	1 do.

Students taking this examination should also be required to produce a certificate from the head master of the school of having gained some practical workshop practice, for instance, in carpentary or sheet metal work and in the handling of tools generally. They further recommend that, as a first step towards the introduction of science teaching in the high schools, Government should provide an elementary physical and chemical laboratory for the Dacca Collegiate School. The capital expenditure required for this development would be Rs. 23,000 and the recurring expenditure Rs. 5,198. Government approve of the proposal to introduce science teaching into high schools in Dacca and to inaugurate a special examination to meet its needs. This will be brought to the notice of the Dacca Board with a view to the creation of the special examination. Government will also consider the possibility of starting the course in the Dacca Collegiate School or elsewhere when funds permit.

10. The Committee recommend the introduction of simple book-keeping as one of the additional optional subjects for the high school examination. The object of this course will be to give those, who take it up, sufficient training to make them useful in modest business concerns. The Committee consider that instruction in this course could be provided at a comparatively small cost, viz., one teacher on Rs. 75—5—150 teaching the pupils of two schools, besides a capital expenditure of Rs. 100 per school. Government are of opinion that this course will be useful and lead to employment, provided that the training in accounts is combined with training in hand-writing and arithmetic up to a very high standard. Subject to this provision Government accept the proposal and will inform the Dacca Board accordingly. They will also, when funds are available, consider the question of employing a teacher at one of the Dacca Schools as an experimental measure, and of levying a small extra monthly fee from students taking the course, so as to make the scheme partly pay for itself.

11. Intermediate Colleges.—The question of vocational training at the Intermediate Colleges is more complex. Here the first question arises whether something more than a practical bias can be given in such colleges and whether the vocational education given therein can be made sufficient to enable a boy who leaves them to earn his own living by means of the vocation for which he has been trained. It is to be borne in mind that, as the Sadler Commission pointed out, the majority of the boys who enter a college of the kind would probably not wish to make a choice at this stage excluding them from University education in the future, and the question arises whether it is practicable to keep this possibility open for them and at the same time to give them a sufficiently specialised training in any one branch to enable them to earn their living on leaving the intermediate college. The Sadler Commission thought that it was possible to do so. The Committee, however, think that the matter is still in an experimental stage and no definite judgment can be expressed on it at the present moment.

12. At present both the Dacca and Jagannath Intermediate Colleges teach physics and chemistry. Botany, commerce and dyeing are also taught at the latter institution. The Committee propose the addition of the following courses :—

(i) An elementary course in the technology of oils, fats and soaps at the Jagannath College.

(ii) A mechanical science course at the Dacca Intermediate College.

As regards the first proposal, it is stated that the intermediate course in oils, fats and soaps cannot be established at the Jagannath College without considerable increase in the laboratory accommodation unless the second year's teaching is given in the University laboratory for technology proposed by the Committee. Apart from the question of laboratory accommodation the total capital cost of the intermediate course is Rs. 3,000 only and the total recurring expenditure Rs. 3,240 per annum. The college can meet these from its ordinary income. The experiment could therefore be conducted, cheaply as far as the Intermediate College is concerned, but as it is dependent on the more ambitious University courses in technology, it will have to await the fruition of a University scheme on these lines.

In the proposal to start a mechanical science course at the Dacca Intermediate College one is on much more debatable ground. The Committee are divided in their opinion in the matter. The majority favour the establishment of such a course, as they think it would be distinctly advantageous to introduce it in a college of the intermediate type, thereby leading boys, who have had a mainly literary training, to turn their attention to engineering. The minority are opposed to it on the ground that the task and function of developing any educational course in engineering for Dacca and the Dacca district above the high school stage and below the University stage should be assigned to the Ahsanullah School of Engineering. The cost of the course is estimated at Rs. 66,950 capital and Rs. 15,576 recurring per annum. Without committing themselves definitely one way or the other, Government think that the scheme formulated by the Committee has more than one drawback.

The cost of the proposed course is prohibitive as compared with the expenditure required for the full mechanical and electrical engineering course proposed by the Committee for the engineering school. Further, Government are of opinion that at present an Intermediate College should aim at courses which may possibly be demonstrated by experience to fit a student to earn his living directly he leaves the college The course proposed for the Intermediate College is admittedly not designed to have any professional value, but would only provide men suitable for finishing their training in some higher or fuller professional or University course, should this be available. Such men would be more appropriately drawn from the passed students of the school. But if they could not go further, the engineering knowledge they had acquired would be of little use in obtaining a living.

As funds are limited and the simultaneous development of two institutions is not advisable, Government are disposed to accept the conclusion of the minority that the task of developing any educational courses in engineering for Dacca and the district should be assigned to the engineering school.

13. The Committee have suggested an improved scheme for the Intermediate Examination in Commerce and have proposed some improvements in the existing commerce course at the Jagannath College at an estimated cost of Rs. 250 capital and Rs. 6,000 recurring per annum. Government accept the revised scheme and will draw the attention of the Dacca Board to it. They will also consider the possibility of providing money for the improvement of the Jagannath College course when funds are available.

14. Ahsanullah School of Engineering.—The Government resolution relating to the appointment of the Committee specially asked them to consider the possibility of expanding the School of Engineering so as to provide not only for a degree course, but also for training in such subjects as railway, mechanical and electrical engineering. The Committee accordingly took this problem into consideration and propose the re-establishment at the school of the mechanical and electrical engineering course of the upper subordinate standard which formerly existed there. They state that the vocational course would produce men who would be able to earn their living immediately on leaving the school. The Committee specially press the scheme because they consider it really indispensable to the University course in electro-technics, proposed by them. The course would be one of three years' duration at the school followed by a year's practical training. It would correspond to the upper subordinate course in the Civil Engineering Department and would also be of approximately the same length and standard as the non-University mechanical and electrical course of the Bengal Engineering College, Sibpur. The cost of the scheme is estimated at Rs. 46,625 capital and Rs. 10,262 recurring per annum.

In the opinion of Government the scheme proposed by the Committee seems to be founded on a common fallacy, viz., that to train an engineering subordinate all that is necessary is to give him a college course similar to that required for an engineer but of a lower standard; and, secondly, to reduce the period of apprenticeship in a workshop. A mechanical and electrical subordinate requires as a matter of fact a longer and severer apprenticeship in workshops than is required for the higher grades. It is essential that he should be first of all a good workman and have intimate knowledge of the labour employed. He should also be able to set out work in the shops. A sufficient knowledge of elementary science to understand theory is desirable; but to be a good workman is essential. A man with practically no theoretical training may make a fairly successful foreman but a man without a long workshop apprenticeship is useless.

The course proposed in the report is not of the same length and standard as the non-University mechanical and electrical course of the Bengal Engineering College, Sibpur. The course at Sibpur for direct admission is six years in duration—three years in college and three years in approved workshops. The course proposed in the report is exactly similar to the old course at Sibpur which was so severely condemned and which failed so completely.

Government are therefore of opinion that in the present state of their finances it would be of greater advantage, both professional and economic, to keep this work concentrated at the Bengal Engineering College, Sibpur, for a long time to come.

15. The Sub-Committee of the Dacca Technical and Vocational Education Committee made enquiries and are satisfied that the supply of trained engineers is not in excess of the demand. The Committee also point out that the increased number of appointments on railways open to students trained in India will widen the field of employment for engineers. They therefore propose to establish two four year courses—(a) a course in Civil Engineering and (b) a combined course in Mechanical and Electrical Engineering in the University. The courses are to be given under a joint arrangement between the University and the School of Engineering. This would involve additions to the staff of the latter institution. The entrance test for these courses would be the Intermediate Examination in Arts or Science, supplemented by a special test in Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Drawing and general knowledge. For certain classes of possible candidates the University would devise a special entrance test. The University would not be responsible for the practical training, this falling upon the School of Engineering or, for candidates for posts under Government, on the Public Works Department. According to the estimates of cost of the joint scheme, Dacca University will have to spend Rs. 2,000 capital and Rs. 8,700 recurring and the School of Engineering Rs. 88,500 capital and Rs. 75,620 recurring.

The Government of Bengal, while agreeing with the Committee that the supply of trained engineers is not in excess of the demand, think that the demand is for trained engineers and not for engineering graduates. Bengal has at present limited facilities for the practical training of student engineers and Government can provide in one college facilities for higher courses in engineering for a number of students in excess of the number for which full practical training can be arranged. Government are moreover of opinion that in the present condition of the mechanical and electrical engineering industries in Bengal it is undesirable to increase the number of institutions which have courses in mechanical and electrical engineering of the nature proposed in the report, as it will be impossible for the firms to absorb all the successful candidates. Apart altogether from the difficulty in obtaining practical training for those students who qualify at an educational institution, it is questionable whether they will be able to obtain those supervisory positions to which they aspire and which the report optimistically expects to be open to them. These positions are limited in number. In England a student who goes both through a technical course and a workshop training is not unduly disappointed if at the end of it he has to work as a mechanic for some considerable time before he reaches a supervisory position. Students in Bengal are reluctant to do this and sufficient supervisory posts are not available to justify an increase in the facilities of training as proposed in the report.

16. The Committee propose a University course in electro-technics. This will be a three years' course leading up to an Honours degree in Physics with electro-technics as a special subject, to be arranged jointly by the University and the School of Engineering with practical training in the power station of the Dacca Electric Supply Company. A maximum of 24 students a year is proposed, 72 in all. The scheme is contingent on the inauguration of the proposed new non-University course in mechanical and electrical engineering at the School of Engineering. If that ever materialises the present scheme would cost only Rs. 5,180 recurring per annum. Without the help of the Engineering School the scheme will cost Rs. 40,000 capital plus the cost of a building, and Rs. 17,400 rising to Rs. 25,800 recurring per annum. Without the help of the School of Engineering the scheme will thus be inordinately expensive and the co-operation of the school pre-supposes the re-establishment there of the mechanical and electrical engineering course which again depends upon finance.

The general idea of the course is said to be such as to give students a training which will enable them to obtain posts as assistants in power-stations, motor-car firms, tramway and general electrical firms and assistants in wireless stations. It is, however, doubtful whether any practical electrical engineer would be satisfied with the training suggested in this course, which is out of date. In the early teaching of electro-technics in England it is true that electro-technics was added as an additional subject to a physics and mathematics course, but the men produced by such a course were so unsatisfactory that it was abandoned long ago. The universal rule now-a-days is to make the basic course mechanical engineering for the first two years and to specialise in electro-technics for two additional years. After this a further training in electrical workshops and power stations is necessary. The proposed training will produce a physicist with a smattering in electro-technics who will have little or no practical value.

17. The Committee recommend the establishment of a general course in chemical technology and of a post-graduate course in the technology of oils, fats, soaps and candles. As regards the former course, their proposal is that an honours course in technical chemistry be instituted to give students a thorough practical and theoretical knowledge of—

(1) the principles of design and working of the chief types of chemical plant and machinery;

(2) the chief chemical technological processes, including the technology of water and fuel which are the basic raw materials of all industries.

Students taking up the general course in chemical technology will have to take an elementary course in mechanical engineering as a subsidiary subject of study as part of this special Honours course. This subsidiary study will occupy two of the three years of the course. It is hoped that the School of Engineering will assist the University in connection with this course. As regards the latter, the Committee propose a one year's course in the technology of oils, fats and soaps leading on to an M.Sc. degree for those who have previously taken the Honours degree in the proposed Technical Chemistry B.Sc. Examination. The total cost of the two courses is Rs. 1,32,000 capital and Rs. 29,000 recurring per annum. Government accept the scheme, which mainly concerns the University, as sound in principle. They are, however, doubtful whether the finances of the University will permit of funds being allotted for the scheme in the near future.

18. The Committee recommend a scheme for the establishment of a department of tanning and leather chemistry as drawn up by Mr. B. M. Das, Director of the Government Research Tannery, and accepted by Dr. D. B. Meek, Director of Industries. It would cost Rs. 1,66,185 capital and Rs. 53,500 recurring per annum, against estimated receipts of Rs. 19,000 per annum from fees and sales of leather. It is urged in support of the scheme that the raw material is there; the market for the leather is there; technical knowledge and investment of capital in tanning are what are needed and the former will inspire the latter.

The Committee propose—

(1) a B.Sc. (Honours) Course in Leather Technology to extend over three years for students who have taken an Intermediate Examination in Science and two years for those who have taken a Pass B.Sc. Course;

(2) an M.Sc. (Research) Course for those who have taken the B.Sc. degree in Leather Chemistry.

They also suggest—

(3) that the resources of the laboratory should be used to train foreman tanners who would start from the Matriculation stage and would take a diploma course of three years;

(4) that special courses extending over a maximum of six months should be provided for persons who are already in the trade.

Although the scheme prepared by Mr. Das is eminently suitable for the purpose of establishing a Department of Leather Chemistry and Tanning at an Indian University, Government are of opinion that it would not help to solve the industrial problem of unemployment. The Calcutta Research Tannery provides the present needs not only of Bengal but also of Bihar and Orissa, but so small is the demand for trained men that quite 25 per cent. of the men trained at this centre are unable to find employment. In the present state of the industry severe practical training is much more necessary than a knowledge of the theoretical side of the work. The former is given at the Research Tannery while a University course would necessarily have to emphasise the latter. In these circumstances Government cannot agree that it would be wise to allow at present the establishment at considerable cost of a Department of Tanning and Leather Chemistry.

19. The Committee think that it would be premature to start a faculty of agriculture in the University. They think, however, that an agricultural seed industry might be developed in India and that, to meet the demand that may arise, training in Botany should be given in Dacca University. Along these lines of development bacteriologists also will be necessary since the fertility of the soil is intimately connected with its bacterial flora, and most Agricultural Departments are starting sub-sections in this branch of science. At present there are no bacteriologists available and practically no means of training students. The Committee, therefore, recommend the establishment of a Botanical Department and a Bacteriological Department in the University of Dacca. The botanical laboratory would cost Rs. 46,000 to build, Rs. 30,000 to fit up and Rs. 24,000 for preliminary apparatus. The bacteriological laboratory will entail a total capital expenditure of Rs. 35,500. The recurring expenditure of the Botanical Department is estimated at Rs. 25,000 per annum and that of the Bacteriological Department at Rs. 10,000 per annum.

Remembering on the one hand that agriculture is the one industry of paramount importance in Bengal and on the other the enormous possibilities of its development on scientific lines, it would in the opinion of Government be wrong to neglect this opportunity of spreading special knowledge on these points even though there may be doubts whether the country can absorb at once trained seed and soil experts. When further it is seen that Botany and Bacteriology are two subjects which give students excellent training in scientific principles, modes of thought and working at a low cost, the case for development along these lines is even stronger. Accordingly if funds permit Government are anxious that these branches of study should be taken in hand.

20. The University of Dacca have set up a Department of Commerce which has been organised in correlation with the Department of Economics. The Department of Commerce is rather poorly equipped and the Committee recommend that this should be improved. The cost involved is Rs. 9,000 capital and Rs. 8,640 recurring per annum. Government accept the principle of manning the Department of Commerce in the University adequately, as proposed by the Committee. Before, however, giving effect to this recommendation the University would do well to weigh carefully its financial position and the needs of its other departments.

21. The financial effect of the Committee's proposals has been mentioned in the preceding paragraphs. The total ultimate cost involved will, however, be much more than the estimates given by the Committee would seem to show. Any attempt to carry out the proposals at Dacca will naturally involve Government in demands for similar expenditure elsewhere. Technical and vocational education, which often involves the services of expert highly-paid teachers, and generally the consumption of materials and the use of expensive machinery, cannot but be more expensive than literary education. It will be impossible for the provincial revenues to bear so heavy a burden unless a substantial portion of the cost is contributed by the people themselves. If, therefore, a particular institution be willing to start a course, it should at the same time be prepared to meet a part of the cost in the shape of increased fees. Government would then have the proposals worked out in detail and consider the question of giving effect to them in order of urgency according as funds permit.

ORDER.—Ordered, that the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and that copies be forwarded for information to the Agriculture and Industries Department of this Government; the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal; the Secretary, Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education, Dacca, and the Registrar, Dacca University.

RESOLUTION.

TARIFFS.

Delhi, the 3rd April 1926.

No. 260-T. (64).—The attention of the Tariff Board is drawn to the fact that the Steel Industry (Protection) Act, 1924, will expire on the 31st of March 1927, and it is requested to re-examine the measure of protection afforded to the various articles covered by the Act and by Act VIII of 1926. It will report in respect of each class of article whether it is still necessary to continue protection, and if so, whether the measure of protection now given should be increased or diminished or whether the form of the protection given should be altered. In making its recommendations, the Tariff Board will take all relevant considerations into account, including that stated in part (b) of the resolution adopted by the Legislative Assembly on the 16th February 1923, and if it thinks that in any case the assistance required can most suitably take the form of bounties, the source from which the money for the bounties can be obtained should be discussed. In dealing with the Tinplate industry, the Board will bear in mind its own observations in paragraph 31 of Chapter IV of the second portion of its First Report. The Board will also be at liberty to examine the claims for protection of industries making steel products which do not come within the scope of the present Act and to report whether having regard to the principles laid down in paragraph 97 of the Report of the Indian Fiscal Commission, such claims should be admitted.

2. Firms and persons interested in the steel industry or industries dependent on the use of steel, who desire that their views should be considered by the Tariff Board, should address their representations to the Secretary to the Board.

3. The Government of India are specially anxious that the Tariff Board's report should be submitted not later than 15th October 1926.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations, all Departments of the Government of India, the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence and Statistics, the Indian Trade Commissioner in London and to the Secretary, Tariff Board.

Ordered also that it be published in the Gazette of India.

Students who come from the Dacca University and the Dacca Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education are admitted on the nomination of the Secretary of the said Board and University, and the candidates from the Central Provinces on the nomination of the Director of Public Instruction of that province. 6. (a) Female students will be admitted to this College provided they possess the requisite preliminary qualification, and provided there is a vacancy in the Surnomoyee Hostel in which all female students must reside.

(b) Female students already studying in this College but belonging to provinces other than Bengal will have to pay rents for their seats in the Surnomoyee Hostel.

7. Failed students must apply for admission and pay the fee within the date prescribed by the Principal, otherwise their claims will lapse.

8. All regular students must pay an annual fee of Rs. 200 in two instalments, viz., Rs. 100 for the Summer term and Rs. 100 for the Winter term. They must also pay the annual Athletic Club fee of Rs. 4 along with the fees for their Summer term. Fees once paid cannot be refunded except to those whose claim for the refund is tenable under rule 19.

9. The fees for each term are to be paid in one instalment. Except in the case of new students, the fees for the Summer term are due on the 15th June and those for the Winter term on the 1st November, and must be paid on those dates or on such subsequent dates as the Principal directs, after which a daily fine of annas 4 will be levied along with the fee in each case of default.

15. In calculating the sum to be paid under rule 14 by a regular student, the amount of College fees paid by him (or in the case of a student enjoying a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student) shall be deducted.

16. The fees payable by a Muhammadan student requiring certificates in the same way will be calculated on the same principle, i.e., he will be allowed a deduction for the full annual fee, half of which has been paid by himself and half by the Mohsin Fund.

17. Students of the Military class requiring certificates in the same way will be required to pay the rate of fees laid down in paragraph 14 for the full curriculum or for such portion as they have attended. No deduction will be made in this case as they are not free students in the sense in which that term is defined in Bengal Government Resolution (Education) No. 601 of the 7th December 1880.

18. The fee for post-graduate students undergoing a course of training in the Pathological, Bacteriological, Physiological or Chemical Laboratory is Rs. 90 for a period not exceeding six months.

NOTIFICATION.

Election to the Bengal Legislative Council from the Dacca University constituency.

ONE member will be elected to the Bengal Legislative Council from the Dacca University constituency in 1926. Under the terms of paragraph 12 of Schedule II of the Bengal Electoral Rules, a person is qualified as an elector for the Dacca University constituency who (1) has a place of residence in Bengal and is a member of the Court or a registered graduate of the University, or (2) has a place of residence in the Dacca Division or in the Chittagong Division, is a registered graduate of some other University and would have been qualified to be registered as a graduate of Dacca University but for the fact that, before the 1st April 1920, he had been registered as a graduate of that other University. No person can vote at any general election both in the Calcutta University and in the Dacca University constituency. In order to ensure inclusion of their names in the electoral roll of the Dacca University constituency for the forthcoming election to the Bengal Legislative Council, registered graduates, who are liable to pay the annual fee, are advised to pay the fee due for the academic year 1926-27, with arrears, if any, on or before the 15th June 1926. Graduates qualified to become registered graduates of Dacca University, under the terms of statutes 14 and 14A, of which copies may be had on application to the undersigned, are also advised to apply for registration on payment of the prescribed fee, on or before the 15th June 1926. According to University Ordinance, the fee for the renewal of registration of graduates for any session must be paid not later than the 30th of July of that session. The names of registered graduates who do not pay the fee for the session 1926-27 will not be included in the final electoral roll of the Dacca University constituency. Attention is drawn to the fact that, under statute 14, sub-clause (a), qualified non-Muhammadan graduates of other Indian Universities, who are not already registered, will not be entitled to become registered graduates of Dacca University after the 30th June 1926. Women graduates and women members of the Court will be entitled to the franchise on the same terms as men.

DARJEELING, THE 12TH APRIL 1926.

RESOLUTION—2T.—A.I.

READ—

The report on the working of the Co-operative Societies in Bengal for the year ending 30th June 1925.

Administration.—Mr. M. Thorp, I.C.S., officiated as Registrar till the 19th November 1924, when Rai J. M. Mitra Bahadur relieved him on the termination of his duties in connection with the Bengal Court of the British Empire

Exhibition. There was no alteration in the strength of the superior controlling staff of the department, which has reached the requisite standard of a Registrar and five Assistant Registrars. The want of separate office establishments for the Assistant Registrars, Chittagong and Burdwan Divisions, has necessitated the fixing of the headquarters of these officers at Dacca and Calcutta respectively. The entertainment of the requisite office staff for these two divisions has been administratively approved, and it is hoped that it will be possible to provide funds for this purpose in the near future. During the year of report, the posts of inspectors and divisional and chief auditors were placed on a permanent basis, and their pay was substantially raised. Eleven additional posts of auditors were sanctioned, and a scheme for further strengthening this staff has been approved, subject to the provision of funds.

General progress of the movement.—The advance noticed in the preceding year was maintained during the year under review. The number of societies of all classes rose form 9,342 to 11,081 and membership from 340,159 to 386,050. The number of societies increased by 18·3 per cent. against an increase of 19·4 per cent. in the preceding year and 17·1 per cent. in the year previous. The increase in membership was 13·4 per cent against 16·1 per cent. in the preceding year and 12·6 per cent. in the year previous. The total working capital increased from 5·07 crores to 6·18 crores and by 21·8 per cent. against 17·07 per cent. in the preceding year and 17·6 per cent. in the year previous. Excluding the items which are counted more than once as a result of the separate treatment of the funds of the central and primary societies, the actual cash employed in the movement increased from 3·32 crores to 3·98 crores, while the amount contributed by the societies and members rose from 1·56 crores to 1·81 crores. The substantial increase in the resources available for the movement is a pleasing feature of the year's work.

I. PRIMARY SOCIETIES.

(a) Agricultural Societies.

(i) Credit Societies.—The work of these societies showed a marked improvement during the year of report. The collections amounted to 62·71 lakhs, being about 24 lakhs more than in the preceding year, and were the best in the quinquennium. The overdues declined from 51·78 lakhs to 49·26 lakhs, or 28·3 per cent. of the amount outstanding at the end of the year under review. Government trust that there will be no relaxation of the efforts to further reduce the overdues which are still substantial enough to constitute a possible source of danger to the movement.

(ii) Agricultural purchase and purchase and sale societies.—The number of these societies rose from 22 to 33 and their membership from 4,441 to 5,337, but their total working capital fell from Rs. 1,56,161 to Rs. 94,419. This is ascribed to a reduction in the working capital of the Sundarbans Supply and Sale Society which repaid a part of its liabilities and had at the same time a brisk business, with the result that it had a larger profit. The total profits earned by all the societies of this class amounted to Rs. 17,761 against Rs. 3,620 in the preceding year. To ensure the stability and satisfactory working of this class of societies, it is necessary that the volume of their business in connection with the supply of agricultural and household requisites should be more fully developed. With a view to assisting the paddy sale societies to effect the most advantageous disposal of their stock, a scheme has received the administrative approval of Government, under which a central godown for the purpose will be started in Calcutta by the Bengal Co-operative Organisation Society, Limited, which will receive from Government an amount equivalent to the cost of the godown for the first three years. The scheme also contemplates the provision by Government of adequate supervising staff for a small number of paddy and jute sale societies in their initial stages and the grant of financial assistance to them in the shape of loans for the provision of storage accommodation. Provision for the purpose has been made in the next year's budget, and when the scheme is introduced, it should prove of considerable assistance to the development of societies of this class.

(iii) Irrigation societies.—The total number of these societies rose from 173 to 268, membership from 7,376 to 10,368, and working capital from Rs. 1,29,598 to Rs. 1,90 124. Of these three are in Burdwan, four in Hooghly, one in Midnapore, one in Faridpur, and one in Bogra. Most of the societies are in the Bankura and Birbhum districts. In Bankura there are 142 societies with a total irrigable area of 30,507 bighas against 107 societies with a total irrigable area of 25,559 in the preceding year. In Birbhum there are 116 societies with an irrigable area of 15,502 against 58 societies with an irrigable area of 9,708 in the preceding year. All the schemes initiated and executed during the year in Bankura were Tank schemes, while only one new Stream scheme initiated in Birbhum during the year still remains in the preliminary stage.

(iv) Co-operative agricultural associations.—Although these associations increased in number from 16 to 20, their working does not show any marked success. Government consider that these associations, if conducted on right lines, will greatly assist the cause of agricultural progress and trust that the Registrar will devote his special attention to guiding them in their work.

(v) Production and sale societies.—Milk societies.—The number of these societies rose from 54 to 63 and their membership from 2.155 to 2,909. Fifty-six of these societies have already been able to achieve financial independence, while the production of milk per member has nearly doubled in three years' time. The average yield of milk per society rose from 26·9 seers to 52·7 seers a day during the triennium. These societies are all affiliated to the Calcutta Milk Union. The union realised Rs. 2,47,988 by the sale of milk during the year. It is satisfactory to note that the union has, during the year of report, enlisted the support of the Calcutta Corporation in the form of a loan and a subsidy to enable it to expand its work which has an important bearing of the improvement of the milk supply and public health of Calcutta.

(vi) The Naogaon Ganja Cultivators' Co-operative Society, Ltd.—This society continued to prosper during the year under review and contributed generously towards numerous works of public utility in the locality.

(b) Non-agricultural societies.—The non-agricultural credit societies continued to do useful work, while the working of the stores and supply societies showed little improvement. The Calcutta Swadeshi Co-operative Stores, Limited, which was the largest society of the latter class, was liquidated during the year of report. Government agree with the Registrar that in order to rehabilitate the stores movement, it is necessary that the members should be required to subscribe larger share capital and to take upon themselves greater liability. The Registrar's scheme for the establishment of a central sale depot for industrial societies is being awaited. In connection with this scheme it should be considered whether the stores cannot utilise the agency of this organisation, when started, for making their purchases economically.

The eight conch-shell workers' societies in the town of Dacca made satisfactory progress during the year. A braziers' society was started in Brahmanbaria during the year and worked at a small profit. This society has been granted a loan of Rs. 7,000 by Government. There was a marked expansion of weavers' societies during the year. An interesting development was the organisation during the year of a society at Dopukuria in Murshidabad for reeling silk in filature. A loan of Rs. 4,000 has been granted to this society by Government.

II. CENTRAL SOCIETIES.

(i) Industrial unions.—These unions increased from 6 to 8. The Dacca Union made very satisfactory progress during the year of report and is now the most prosperous society of this class.

(ii) Central banks.—There were three additions to the number of central banks, which stood at 91 at the end of the year under review. The total number of societies affiliated to these banks rose from 8,289 to 9,746, paid-up share capital from 21·54 lakhs to 25·29 lakhs, reserve funds from 9·47 lakhs to 11·41 lakhs, and their working capital from 1·75 crores to 2·05 crores. The total collections from societies amounted to 85·47 lakhs and were better by 32·16 lakhs than the repayments in the preceding year. It is satisfactory to note that the central banks generally maintained sufficient fluid resources and continued to work satisfactorily, although many of them have still to realize the necessity of maintaining an adequate staff for the transaction of their business.

(iii) The Bengal Provincial Co-operative Bank, Limited.—This apex bank continued to do excellent work. Its membership increased from 109 to 122, share capital from 4·57 lakhs to 5·48 lakhs, reserve and other funds from 1·03 lakhs to 1·13 lakhs, and the total working capital from 36·77 lakhs to 61·29 lakhs. The bank retained the great public confidence which it had already acquired and was able to meet fully the requirements of its constituent societies in the shape of loans. It had a turn-over of 2·41 crores during the year and earned a profit of Rs. 69,646.

(iv) The Calcutta Central Co-operative Anti-malarial Society, Limited.—There was an expansion of this section of the movement during the year under report. Several anti-malarial societies in the district of the 24-Parganas, with the help of local donations and contributions collected by them and supplemented by advances from the Central Anti-malarial Society, sunk tube-wells with a view to providing a supply of pure drinking water. The cost involved is not large, and an extension of work in this direction will be of considerable assistance in solving the difficult problem of water supply in rural areas.

(v) The Bengal Co-operative Organisation Society.—This society continued to bring out the two periodicals. Its reorganisation has been effected since the close of the year under review. It has now been so reconstituted as to enable its development into a federation of the registered co-operative societies in the province charged with the duty of publicity and propaganda, organisation and supervision. The annual grant to this society has been augmented by Rs. 7,000. The development of the society will be watched with interest.

The Governor in Council notes with pleasure the increasing public interest which is being evinced in the development of the co-operative movement in the province and takes this opportunity of acknowledging the valuable assistance rendered to the movement by various non-official gentlemen as well as by the district and subdivisional officers mentioned by the Registrar. The thanks of Government are also due to Mr. M. Thorp and Rai J. M. Mitra Bahadur for their efficient administration of the department during the year of report.

IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 11I.—The 24th April 1926.—In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), the Governor in Council is pleased to make and fix, with effect from the 14th May 1926, the following rules and schedule of rates of toll for the Damodar Channel joining the Katcha and Baleswar rivers in the Perojpur subdivision of the Bakarganj district:—

Rules and schedule of rates of tolls.

1. Every vessel on entering the channel and before passing the gate at either end or even when entering the channel from a side khal between the gates shall be liable to measurement for the purpose of ascertaining the tolls payable ; in case of any reasonable doubt arising, a vessel may be measured again by any person appointed by the District Board of Bakarganj, on this behalf.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below :—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, kosh boats, green boats, etc.

Class II.—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purpose of Act V (B.C.) of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements :—

CLASS I.

A. The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches ; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 12½ maunds, any remainder of less than 12½ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees. The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

CLASS II.

For vessels of Class II the number of maunds obtained by the system of measurement prescribed for vessels of class I shall be increased by one half. For vessels of this class above 5,000 maunds measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 500 maunds, rejecting remainder of less than 500 maunds. In the case of steamers and motor boats, the maundage determined as above shall be reduced by one-third as an allowance for engine space.

For vessels of class II which are furnished with reliable way bills, the gross maundage of cargo shown by the way bills or in the case of steamers, the maundage obtained from multiplying the registered tonnage of the steamer by 27, may, at the option of the employer of the vessel or the steamer (as the case may be), be taken as the maundage on which tolls will be charged.

4. After the measurement the person in charge of the vessel shall be provided with a slip showing the maundage to be charged, which must be presented at the toll office where he will be provided with a ticket, after payment of toll, which will permit the vessel to pass the gate or proceed through the channel.

5. Every ticket shall have entered on it the name of the sarang, manjee or other person in charge of the vessel, the date of entry, the maundage, the cargo, the amount of toll charged and the number of days for which the ticket remains current.

6. All tolls are payable on demand and shall be paid at the toll office before a vessel is permitted to proceed.

7. The ticket must be kept on board the vessel and in possession of the person in charge of the vessel and must be produced for inspection when demanded by the person authorised to collect tolls, or by any officer to whom such person is subordinate. If on demand the ticket is not produced, such person or officer shall assess the tollage as provided in rules 3 and 12 and shall require payment of toll, and unless and until the toll is paid, or the original ticket or a duplicate is produced as evidence that toll has already been paid, the vessel shall be liable to seizure and detention under the provisions of section 9 of the Act.

8. Duplicates of lost tickets, of which the numbers and dates can be satisfactorily established, will be granted by the collector of tolls on payment of a fee equal to one quarter of the total tollage, subject to a minimum fee of one anna per ticket.

9. All vessels, whether the property of Government, District Board, other local bodies or of private persons, are liable for toll except those specially exempted under these rules or by a resolution passed by the District Board of Bakarganj from time to time.

10. The canal may be closed once a year for effecting the necessary repairs to it on seven days' notice of the intention so to close it being given; but in the event of any sudden emergency the canal may be closed at any time without prior notice, and no claim in such case by owners of vessels or others for compensation on account of detention shall be entertained.

11. No rafts exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth shall be permitted to enter the canals.

12. The rates of toll shall be as follows:—

(1) On all vessels empty or laden, per hundred maunds	Eight annas.
(2) On all vessels empty or laden, for 12½ maunds or less	One anna.
(3) On rafts of bamboos, grass, timber, etc., not exceeding 50 feet in length and 5 feet in breadth	Four annas each raft.

Tolls will be levied at Hulerhat and Perojpore.

13. For boats frequently using the canal such as boats carrying passengers, grass or perishable articles monthly tickets will be issued at 10 times the ordinary toll.

14. Every vessel which has paid toll shall be allowed to remain in the canal for three days inclusive of the days of entry into and leaving the canal. A vessel remaining in any part of the canal longer than three days shall be charged demurrage equal to one-half of the toll for each day in excess of three days. No vessel shall be permitted to remain in the canal for more than one month. Provided that this rule shall not apply to vessels holding monthly tickets under rule 13 above, which may remain in the canal for more than three days without payment of demurrage but not for more than one month at a time.

15. No vessel carrying exclusively police officers or servants, soldiers and officers of the British Army, post mail runners, officers of the Irrigation Department on duty, officers and servants of the toll office for the canal referred to in these rules while on duty, or the vessels of such other persons as may be exempted by a resolution of the District Board of Bakarganj, shall be liable for toll in the canal.

16. Any matter relating to the mode of collection of tolls and other relevant points, not provided for in these rules, shall be decided by the District Board of Bakarganj at a meeting, and shall be subject to the approval of the local Government.

2. Vessels for the purpose of the determination of maundage shall be divided into two classes as below:—

Class I.—To include all vessels of the types of country boats, including saltees and hapors (fish cages), house boats, kosh boats, green boats, etc.

Class II.—To include steam boats, motor boats, flats and barges and other square-built vessels.

3. The maundage of every vessel, whether laden or empty, shall, for the purpose of Act V (B. C) of 1864 and of these rules, be determined by the following measurements:—

CLASS I.

A. The product of one quarter the length of the vessel from stem to stern, measured along the water line, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the depth from the water-line to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

B. The measurement of the length is to be made in feet, rejecting inches; the measurement of breadth and depth is to be made in feet and quarters of a foot, rejecting any remainder of less than a quarter of a foot.

C. The maundage on which the amount of toll is calculated shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 12½ maunds, any remainder of less than 12½ maunds being rejected. In the case of vessels exceeding 500 maunds by measurement, the maundage shall be reckoned to the nearest integral multiple of 50 maunds, rejecting any remainder of less than 50 maunds.

D. Saltees.—The product of one quarter of the inside length of the vessel, measured along the centre line from stem to stern, multiplied by the interior greatest breadth of the vessel, multiplied by the greatest depth measured from the top to the interior bottom of the vessel, is to be taken as equal to the number of maunds upon which tolls shall be levied.

(2) Where any doubt or dispute arises regarding the classification of a ship under this rule the Port Officer at the port where the doubt or dispute arises shall decide the question and his decision shall be final.

1. Two classes of students are submitted for study in the College :—

(a) "Regular class" or those who enter for the full University course.

The admission to this class is restricted to students (male and female) who are natives of, or whose parents are domiciled in, the area within the territorial limits of the Calcutta University and the provinces of Assam, Manipur State and Central Provinces, and those who come from the Dacca University and Board as provided for in rule 4.

(b) "Military class" (only students of European or Anglo-Indian parentage are admitted to this class). (See separate prospectus for Military students.)

The admission to this class is regulated by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service.

2. The minimum preliminary qualification for admission to the (a) "Regular class" is the Pass certificate of the I. Sc. Examination of the Calcutta University with Physics and Chemistry, or any examination equivalent to it. In assessing the claims of those eligible for admission, special proficiency in those subjects particularly useful in the medical curriculum will be given the fullest consideration, viz., in English, Physics, Chemistry and Botany.

3. The Summer term commences on the 15th June and closes on the 19th September. The Winter term opens on 5th October and closes on the 31st March.

4. All new students must apply for admission to the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, in the prescribed form available in this office on or before the 25th May, together with a fee of Rs. 4, which will not be refunded on any account except in the case of Assamese students, who should apply to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of that province for admission within such date as that officer may prescribe. Students who come from the Dacca University and the Dacca Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education are admitted on the nomination of the Secretary of the said Board and University, and the candidates from the Central Provinces on the nomination of the Director of Public Instruction of that province. The candidate from Manipur will be nominated by the Manipur State.

Selected candidates must pay the following fees within the time prescribed by the Principal, failing which their names will be struck off the selected list :—

	Rs.
Admission fee	25
Fees for Summer term	100
Athletic Club fee	4
Total ...	129

5. The number of regular students to be admitted each year is generally 120, but the Principal may, at his discretion, increase or decrease this number, and the final selection lies entirely with him.

One-fourth of the total number to be admitted, if a suitable number of candidates be obtained, shall be Muhammadans. One candidate will be nominated by the Director of Public Instruction, Central Provinces, six candidates by the Inspector-General, Civil Hospitals, Assam, three candidates of the Dacca University and three candidates of the Dacca Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education by the respective authorities. One candidate will be nominated by the Manipur State. These candidates must possess the qualifications mentioned in rule 2. These nominations must reach the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, before the 10th June in each year, failing which the Principal will fill up vacancies with local candidates.

6. (a) Female students will be admitted to this College provided they possess the requisite preliminary qualification, and provided there is a vacancy in the Surnomoyee Hostel in which all female students must reside.

(b) Female students already studying in this College but belonging to provinces other than Bengal will have to pay rents for their seats in the Surnomoyee Hostel.

7. Failed students must apply for admission and pay the fee within the date prescribed by the Principal, otherwise their claims will lapse.

8. All regular students must pay an annual fee of Rs. 200 in two instalments, viz., Rs. 100 for the Summer term and Rs. 100 for the Winter term. They must also pay the annual Athletic Club fee of Rs. 4 along with the fees for their Summer term. Fees once paid cannot be refunded except to those whose claim for the refund is tenable under rule 19.

9. The fees for each term are to be paid in one instalment. Except in the case of new students, the fees for the Summer term are due on the 15th June and those for the Winter term on the 1st November, and must be paid on those dates or on such subsequent dates as the Principal directs, after which a daily fine of annas 4 will be levied along with the fee in each case of default.

10. Female students are not liable to pay the Athletic Club fee.

11. Students relegated to a further course of study after failure to pass the Preliminary Scientific M.B. and the First M.B. Examinations shall pay Rs. 100 for the whole session in one instalment within the time prescribed.

12. Students who fail at the Final M.B. Examination shall pay fees for the whole session at the following rates in one instalment:—

	Rs.
For one subject	25
For two subjects	50
For three or more subjects	75

13. Students taking up subjects outside the curriculum of the year in which they are studying shall pay Rs. 30 for each such subject including lectures and practical classes.

14. The fee for certificates issued to regular students leaving the College before completing their study, or for those issued to Military students, shall be Rs. 40 per each course of lectures and practical classes and Rs. 30 for every three months of Hospital practice.

15. In calculating the sum to be paid under rule 14 by a regular student, the amount of College fees paid by him (or in the case of a student enjoying a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student) shall be deducted.

16. The fees payable by a Muhammadan student requiring certificates in the same way will be calculated on the same principle, i.e., he will be allowed a deduction for the full annual fee, half of which has been paid by himself and half by the Mohsin Fund.

17. Students of the Military class requiring certificates in the same way will be required to pay the rate of fees laid down in paragraph 14 for the full curriculum or for such portion as they have attended. No deduction will be made in this case as they are not free students in the sense in which that term is defined in Bengal Government Resolution (Education) No. 601 of the 7th December 1880.

18. The fee for post-graduate students undergoing a course of training in the Pathological, Bacteriological, Physiological or Chemical Laboratory is Rs. 90 for a period not exceeding six months.

19. Holders of scholarships awarded by the Government of Bengal are not required to pay the annual fees of Rs. 200 for the year in which they hold such scholarships. Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of State on the 17th March, 1926 :—

NO. 2 OF 1926.

A Bill to amend the provisions of section 33 of the Indian Succession Act, 1925.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the provisions of section 33 of the Indian Succession Act, 1925, so as to provide more liberally for the surviving widow or husband where there are no lineal descendants in the case of a total intestacy ; It is hereby enacted as follows :— XXXIX of 1925.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Indian Succession (Amendment) Act, 1926.

Amendment of section 33, Act XXXIX of 1925.

2. To clause (b) of section 33 of the Indian Succession Act, 1925 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), before the words "If he has left no lineal descendant" there shall be prefixed the words "Save as provided by section 33A". XXXIX of 1925.

Insertion of new section 33A in Act XXXIX of 1925.

3. After section 33 of the said Act the following section shall be inserted, namely :—

Special provision where intestate has left widow and no lineal descendants.

"33A. (1) Where the intestate has left a widow but no lineal descendants and the nett value of his property does not exceed five thousand rupees, the whole of his property shall belong to the widow.

(2) Where the nett value of the property exceeds the sum of five thousand rupees, the widow shall be entitled to five thousand rupees thereof and shall have a charge upon the whole of such property for such sum of five thousand rupees, with interest thereon from the date of the death of the intestate at 4 per cent. per annum until payment.

(3) The provision for the widow made by this section shall be in addition and without prejudice to her interest and share in the residue of the estate of such intestate remaining after payment of the said sum of five thousand rupees, with interest as aforesaid in the same way as if such residue had been the whole of such intestate's property.

(4) The nett value of the property shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross value thereof all debts and all funeral and administration expenses of the intestate, and all other lawful liabilities and charges to which the property shall be subject.

(5) This section shall not apply—

(a) to the property of any Indian Christian;
(b) unless the deceased dies intestate in respect of all his property."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

When the first Indian Succession Act was passed in the year 1865, under the English law as it then existed, a widow in the case of the intestacy of her husband, where there were no lineal descendants, took one-half of his property if there were kindred. This is the rule contained in section 27 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, now reproduced in section 33 of the Act of 1925. By the Intestates Estates Act, 1890 (53 and 54 Vic., cap. 29), the law was altered and the whole estate went to the widow if it did not exceed in value £500 and the intestate left no lineal descendants. Furthermore, in any case where there were no lineal descendants on such an intestacy even if the property exceeded £500 in value, the widow was given a charge on the whole property up to £500. In connection with the Bill to consolidate the law relating to succession which has since been passed attention was drawn to the difference between the law in England and in India. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce, the Solicitor to the Government of Bengal and the Administrator-General all consider that there is a case for amendment. The present Bill adopts the more liberal rule of the English law. It only need be added that, in view of section 35 which provides that a husband surviving his wife has the same rights in respect of her property on her intestacy as she has on his, it will confer the same benefits on the widower as the Bill expressly confers on the widow. It is suggested there is no ground for differentiation, and this result is in accordance with the general tenor of the Indian Act.

(d) and that through any contract or understanding it is not arranged that more than 25 per cent. of voting power may be exercised, directly or indirectly, on behalf of any person who is not a British Indian subject,

Opportunity to show cause.

12. No license for engaging in the coasting trade of India shall be cancelled, unless an opportunity has been given to the master, owner, charterer or agent of the vessel to show cause against such cancellation.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to provide for the employment of Indian tonnage in the coastal traffic of British India and of the Continent of India. This Bill is intended to serve as a powerful aid to the rapid development of an Indian Merchant Marine. Several attempts made in this direction in the past have all practically failed, owing, it is believed, to the existence of powerful non-Indian interests in the coasting trade of India. There can be no doubt that the growth of an Indian Merchant Marine would prove a powerful factor in the employment of Indian talent and the further extension of Indian trade in various directions in a manner calculated to advance the national interests of India.

3. No common carrier by water shall, directly or indirectly in respect of the coasting trade of India,—

(a) pay or allow or enter into any combination, agreement or understanding, express or implied, to pay or allow a deferred rebate to any shipper ;

(b) retaliate against any shipper by refusing or threatening to refuse space accommodation when such is available, or resort to other discriminating or unfair methods, because such shipper has patronised any other carrier or has filed a complaint charging unfair treatment or for any other reason ;

Every common carrier shall file immediately with the Governor General in Council a true copy or, if oral, a true and complete memorandum of every agreement with another such carrier or modification or cancellation thereof, to which it may be a party or conform in whole or in part, fixing or regulating transportation rates or fares ; giving or receiving special rates, accommodation, or other special privileges or advantages ; controlling, regulating, preventing or destroying competition ; pooling or apportioning earnings, losses or traffic ; allotting ports or restricting or otherwise regulating the number and character of sailings between ports ; limiting or regulating in any way the volume or character of freight or passenger traffic to be carried ; or in any manner providing for an exclusive, preferential or co-operative arrangement.

Power to Governor General in Council to cancel or modify agreements.

7. The Governor General in Council may by order disapprove, cancel or modify any agreement or any modification or cancellation thereof, whether or not previously approved by him that he finds to be unjustly discriminatory or unfair as between carriers, shippers, exporters and importers or to operate to the detriment of the commerce of British India or to be in violation of the Act, and shall approve all other agreements, modifications or cancellations.

Penalties.

8. Whoever violates any provision of any section of this Act, or refuses or fails to carry out the orders of the Governor General in Council, shall be liable to a penalty of a fine of not less than ten thousand rupees, or simple imprisonment to a term of not less than six months, or both.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to remove some of the main obstacles that lie in the way of the development of an Indian Merchant Marine. They mainly consist of methods whereby a shipper is practically bound to confine all his shipments to vessels belonging to a particular shipping company or to the member of a shipping conference. Not merely is the freedom of the shipper to ship his goods by any vessel he may choose thus destroyed, but the progress of trade along desirable channels is also checked. A "disloyal" shipper is penalised by (a) refusal of space ; (b) discrimination in the contract of freight ; (c) the loading and landing of freight ; (d) the adjustment and settlement of claims and various other discriminatory methods. It is the purpose of this Bill to do away with such practices so that an Indian Merchant Marine may grow unhampered.

7. Section 87 of the said Act shall be renumbered section 87 (1), and the following sub-section shall be added to the section, namely:—

"(2) A document otherwise duly presented and registered under this Act shall not be deemed invalid expect on the ground that the whole or some portion of the property to which the document relates has not been shown to exist within the district or sub-district where such document has been presented for registration."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under section 28 of the Indian Registration Act, 1908, documents referred to therein have to be presented for registration in the office of the Sub-Registrar within whose sub-district the whole or some portion of the property to which such document relates is situate. In a case that came up for decision in 1914 the Privy Council held that a parcel of land included in a mortgage deed for the purpose of registering the same in the registration district of Calcutta was not in existence and that it was in fact a fictitious entry. It was therefore held that the registration of the deed was invalid (I. L. R. 41 Calcutta 972). On account of some of the observations made by the Privy Council in this case various pleas for invalidating the registration of documents have been taken in the Courts of law and the principle of the decision of the Privy Council in 41 Calcutta 972 has been unduly extended. (1) Where the property which gave jurisdiction to the Sub-Registrar was in existence but the mortgagor had no title to it and the mortgagee had no knowledge of this fact and there was no collution between the mortgagor and mortgagee, it was held that the registration of the document was not invalid (I. L R. 41 Allahabad 22). (2) Where the property existed but did not belong to the executant and where it was found that neither the vendor nor the vendee intended that the property so included should be affected by the deed, it was held that the deed was not validly registered (I. L. R. 43 Madras 436, and I. L. R. 48 Calcutta 509). (3) Where the mortgagee knew that the property which gave jurisdiction to the Sub-Registrar did not belong to the executant it was held that such knowledge would invalidate the registration of the document [A. R. Allahabad Series 231 (1922)]. (4) Where the property which formed the subject-matter of a document was situated partly in Benares and partly elsewhere and it transpired that the transferor had no title to the property situated in Benares where the document was registered, it was held that the registration was valid as the transferor was acting in a perfectly bonâ fide manner (4 Patna L. J. 432). Various other distinctions to which it is unnecessary to refer at length have been drawn in the decided cases. A fruitful source of uncertainty in regard to titles has thus been introduced by the decisions of the Privy Council and of the High Courts in India which requires the intervention of the Legislature. Before the Privy Council decision in I. L. R. 41, Calcutta 972, the inclusion in a document of a few cents of land for purposes of registration was a common practice in some parts of the country and the decisions abovementioned are a direct inducement to litigants to set up those pleas. It is therefore proposed in the Bill that except in the case where the property included in the document for conferring jurisdiction to the Sub-Registrar is not in existence, a document duly registered should not be declared invalid.

2. The present procedure in regard to inquiries relating to wills and authorities to adopt is two cumbrous and dilatory. Under the provisions of the Registration Act, 1908, inquiries into the genuineness or otherwise of wills and authorities to adopt can be made by a Sub-Registrar or a Registrar. If a will is presented for registration to a Sub-Registrar and if its genuineness is denied, he has to take all the evidence tendered by those who support as well as by those who contest the will. It the Sub-Registrar comes to the conclusion that the will is not genuine, and refuses to register the document, an appeal lies to the Registrar under section 73 of the Act. The Registrar is empowered under sections 74, 75 and 76 to summon the witnesses and hold an inquiry de novo or to come to a decision on the evidence recorded by the Sub-Registrar. If the Registrar also refuses to order the registration of the document, the party concerned can institute a civil suit, where again the whole of the evidence comes under review. A good deal of time and money is now wasted in inquiries before the Sub-Registrar and the Registrar in regard to questions relating to the execution of wills and the litigating parties and witnesses are harassed by being dragged to Courts on three different occasions regarding the same transaction. The inquiry before the Sub-Registrar in regard to this class of transactions is not of the same thorough-going character as a trial before a Civil Court where the rules of evidence are carefully observed by a trained judicial officer. The tendency of the litigants has been not to accept the decisions of the Sub-Registrar and the Registrar but to take the matter to a Civil Court for final decision.

In these circumstances, it is proposed in the present Bill that, where the will or the authority to adopt is tendered for registration after the death of a testator or the donor the Registrar or the Sub-Registrar should refuse the registration of the documents if their genuineness is denied by any party interested therein and that the registering officer should await the decision of a Civil Court and should take action under sections 74 and 75 in accordance with the result of the suit.

3. Opportunity has also been taken to amend the sections of the Act relating to the deposit of wills. A testator is now obliged to go all the way to the district headquarters to deposit a will with the Registrar. The present arrangement by which wills can be deposited only with a single officer in each district is obviously inconvenient, and the provisions of the Act regarding the deposit of wills have not been much availed of. It is therefore proposed in the Bill to empower Sub-Registrars also to receive deposits of sealed packets containing wills. There has been a general improvement in the quality of the officers of the Registration Department and there is no reason now why this power should not be extended to Sub-Registrars. In any event under the provisions of the Bill the testator will have the option to deposit a will with the Registrar or with the nearest Sub-Registrar.

4. There is no provision in the principal Act for the withdrawal or transfer of an inquiry from a registration officer when a suitable case for transfer or withdrawal is made out. The registration of the various kinds of documents involve very serious consequences and may cause sometimes considerable precuniary loss or gain to individuals. Allegations of prejudice, corruption, and partiality are sometimes made against individual officers of the department and requests for transfer of inquiries from the file of some of these officers have been made to the controlling officers. But there is no provision in the Act empowering the District Registrar to transfer an inquiry from the file of one Sub-Registrar to that of another. There is no provision in the Indian Registration Act analogous to section 24 of the Code of Civil Procedure in regard to transfer of suits from one Court to another. The present Bill removes this defect and gives authority to the Registrar to transfer or withdraw any inquiry or to transfer the same from one Sub-Registrar to another in the district and the same power is given to the Inspector-General in respect of proceedings pending before the Registrar.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

1. The object of this Bill is to continue certain provisions of the Indian Finance Act, 1925, which would otherwise cease to have effect from the 1st April 1926, to repeal the Cotton Duties Act, 1896, and to provide for the appropriation of the share of British India in the Dawes Annuities to the reduction or avoidance of debt.

2. Clauses 2, 4 and 6 provide for the continuance of the rates of salt duty, postage, income-tax and super-tax prescribed by the Indian Finance Act, 1925, while clause 5 provides for the credit to revenue for a further period of one year, i.e., till the 31st March 1927, of interest on securities, forming part of the Paper Currency Reserve.

3. Clause 3 repeals the Cotton Duties Act, 1896, and provides, in the case of export by sea, for repayment of drawback of the duty paid as if the Act had remained in force.

4. Clause 7 provides for the balance of the share of British India in the annuities payable by Germany under the London Agreement of 1924 remaining after payment to private persons and local bodies as reparation for damage due to enemy action, being applied for reduction or avoidance of debt. The amounts are uncertain and fluctuating in character and represent recovery of expenditure that may be presumed to have been originally met out of borrowed funds and the capitalised value of certain pension payments.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 1st March, 1926 :—

No. 33 OF 1926.

A Bill to provide for the regular submission of returns of quantities of cotton goods and cotton yarn produced in British India.

WHEREAS it is expedient, notwithstanding the repeal of the Cotton Duties Act, 1896, to provide for the regular submission of returns of the quantities of cotton goods and cotton yarn produced in British India ; It is hereby enacted as follows :— II of 1896

Delivery of monthly returns of goods produced by mill owners

3. (1) The owner of every mill shall each month prepare and deliver, or cause to be prepared and delivered, to the prescribed officer a return of all the cotton goods produced from or in, and of all cotton yarn spun in, the mill during the preceding month by machinery moved otherwise than by manual labour, and shall subscribe a declaration of the truth of the return at the foot thereof.

(2) Save as may be otherwise prescribed, every such return shall state, in respect of each description of goods and of yarn, the quantity produced during the period to which the return relates, and shall contain such further information, and be in such form and be subject to such conditions as to verification and otherwise, as may be prescribed.

(3) Every such return shall be delivered to the prescribed officer or posted to his address within seven days after the end of the month to which it relates.

Power to inspect mills and take copies of records.

4. (1) Any officer authorised by the Local Government by order in writing in this behalf shall have free access at all reasonable times during working hours to any mill and may at any time, with or without notice to the owner, examine and take copies of, or extracts from, the records of the mill for the purpose of testing the accuracy of any return made under section 3, or of informing himself as to any particulars regarding which information is required for the purposes of this Act or any rules made thereunder :

Provided that no officer not especially empowered by the Local Government in this behalf shall be entitled to inspect any record containing the description or formulæ of any trade process.

(2) All copies and extracts and all information acquired by any officer in the inspection of any mill under this section shall be treated as strictly confidential.

Power to make rules.

6. (1) The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, make rules consistent with this Act to carry out the purposes thereof.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :—

(a) the form of any return required under this Act, the particulars to be contained therein, and the manner in which the return shall be verified ;

(b) the nature of the records to be maintained by the owners of mills ;

(c) the powers and duties, in regard to the inspection of mills under this Act, of the officers authorised to make such inspections ; and

(d) any other matter which may be or is to be prescribed.

Penalties.

7. (1) Any person who—

(a) knowingly falsifies any record or book of production kept in a mill, or

(b) being required to deliver a return under section 3, knowingly delivers a false return, or

(c) omits to make any return required by section 3, or refuses to sign or complete the same, or

(d) knowingly does any act, not otherwise punishable under this Act, in contravention of the provisions of any rule made under this Act, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

(2) Any person who discloses any particulars or other information acquired by him in the inspection of any mill under this Act shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees :

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to the disclosure—

(a) of any such particulars or information for the purpose of a prosecution under section 193 of the Indian Penal Code or under this Act, in respect of any return kept or record made for the purposes of this Act, or

XLV of 1860.

(b) of any such particulars or information to any person acting in the execution of any duty imposed upon him by this Act, where the disclosure is necessary for the purposes of this Act.

Exemption.

8. The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, exempt from the operation of this Act or of any specified provision thereof any mill or class of mills, or any goods or class of goods, specified in the notification.

Protection for acts done under this Act

9. No suit or other legal proceeding shall be instituted against any person in respect of anything which is in good faith done or intended to be done under this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Cotton Duties Act, 1896, provides, in addition to the collection of the duty, for the submission of returns of the quantities of cotton goods produced in mills in British India. These statistics of production have been systematically compiled for the last 30 years, and have proved of great assistance in studying the development and vicissitudes of the industry.

2. It is proposed to repeal the Cotton Duties Act of 1896 by a clause in the Finance Bill, and unless the preparation and submission of these statistical returns are provided for by another Act, there will be a break in the continuity of these useful statistics.

3. The Bombay Millowners' Association have been consulted and are in favour of the continuance and preparation of these returns for quantities of yarn and cotton goods manufactured in India.

4. It is, therefore, proposed to render compulsory the preparation and submission of such returns by a Cotton Industry Statistics Bill. This Bill will be proceeded with pari passu with the Finance Bill.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 1st March, 1926 :—

NO. 34 OF 1926.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Divorce Act.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Divorce Act, for the purpose hereinafter appearing ; It is hereby enacted as follows :— IV of 1869.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Indian Divorce (Amendment) Act, 1926.

Amendment of section 2, Act IV of 1869.

2. In section 2 of the Indian Divorce Act, for the words "except in the following cases :—(a) where the marriage shall have been solemnized in India ; or (b) where the adultery, rape or unnatural crime complained of shall have been committed in India ; or (c) where the husband has" the following shall be substitued, namely :—

"except in cases where the parties to the marriage are domiciled in India at the time when the petition is presented, and –

(a) the marriage has been solemnized in India ; or (b) the adultery, rape or unnatural crime complained of has been committed in India ; or (c) the husband has".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Indian Divorce Act purports to give power to certain Courts in British India to pass decrees of divorce a vinculo matrimonii in certain circumstances where the persons concerned profess the Christian religion and reside in India. The President of the Probate Divorce and Admiralty Division of the High Court of Justice in England in the case of Keyes vs. Keyes and Gray held that this power did not extend to the granting of such decrees if the parties were not domiciled in India. By the Indian Divorce (Validity) Act, 1921 (11 and 12 Geo. 5, C. 18), decrees of divorce granted under the Indian Divorce Act and confirmed or made absolute under its provisions were validated even though the parties were at the time of the commencement of the proceedings domiciled in the United Kingdom if the proceedings had commenced before the passing of that Act. The question of the powers of the Courts in India to grant these decrees has, however, since been raised in various High Courts in India in the case of proceedings commenced after the passing of that Act, and the High Courts have held different views as to their powers to grant decrees of divorce a vinculo matrimonii between parties where the husband was admitted to be domiciled in England at the time when the proceedings commenced. The Lahore High Court, for example, in the case of Lee vs. Lee held that they had the power to pass such a decree which would be valid in British India, that is to say, the Courts in certain Provinces in India are still granting such decrees though it is clear that the decrees will not be recognised as valid by the Courts in England. The Bill proposes definitely to restrict the powers of the Courts in India to grant such decrees to cases in which the parties are domiciled in India at the commencement of the proceedings.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Third Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1925-26.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1923-24, the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage in (a) British India, and (b) in the territory now reported on has, in the five years ending 1923-24, averaged (a) 42·2 and (b) 14·7 per cent., respectively.)

Character of the season.—Since the issue of the second forecast in February last, the outturn has considerably been reduced in the important districts of Malda and Murshidabad, owing to drought in the former and cloudy weather and untimely rainfall in the latter. Damage by hail is also reported from places. In the lesser districts of Midnapore, Jalpaiguri, Mymensingh and Faridpur the crop has somewhat improved by the showers of early March. On the whole a fair crop is anticipated.

Acreage.—According to the District Officers' estimates, the total area sown is 130,400 acres this year as against 126,200 and 126,400 acres reported respectively in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Outturn.—The provincial outturn, as worked out from district estimates, is 70 per cent. of the normal as against 79 and 64 per cent., respectively, in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Taking the normal yield to be 8·1/3 maunds per acre, the gross yield of the crop for the province is estimated at 27,900 tons this year as against 30,500 and 24,800 tons reported respectively in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 21st April 1926.

Summary.—Light to moderate rain fell in several districts. Want of rain is retarding field operations for jute and paddy in parts of North and West Bengal. Weeding operation is in progress in the Eastern Bengal districts. The prospects of standing crops are reported to be fair. The average price of common rice for the province has remained almost stationary as compared with that of the previous week.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 60Marine.—The 23rd April 1926.—It is hereby notified for general information that under the provisions of section 11 of the Chittagong Port Act, 1914, the resignation tendered by Mr. B. J. Corcoran of his office of Commissioner for the Port of Chittagong is accepted.

No. 61Marine.—The 27th April 1926.—The following rules which have been framed by the Government of Bengal to regulate the conduct of examinations of seamen for Certificates ot Efficiency as Lifeboatmen are published for general information :—

1. Arrangements have been made by the Government of Bengal at the Port of Calcutta by which on application to the Port Officer of Calcutta seamen may be examined on boardship in the Kidderpore Docks for Certificates of Efficiency as Lifeboatmen.

2. Candidates for examination must comply with the following conditions. All officer ratings (Engineers, Surgeons, Pursers, etc.) must have been at sea at least six months.

Ordinary seamen and other deck ratings must have been at least one year at sea and be not less than 18 years of age. Stewards, firemen and other candidates must have been at least two years at sea and be not less than 20 years of age. Lascars and Indian stewards (other than Goanese) may be examined provided they comply with the foregoing conditions as regards age and service and the examiner is satisfied as to their physical fitness.

3. Where a shipping company or shipowner desires members of a crew to be examined the responsibility for getting the men's applications made and getting the men together will rest with the company or owner. The number of men presented for examination on each occasion should be arranged with the Port Officer, but in no case can fewer than ten men be dealt with at one examination. The forms of application for examination together with a fee of two rupees with each form and each man's discharge book or continuous discharge certificate should be lodged with the Port Officer who will arrange a convenient time and place for the examination to take place and the number of men to be dealt with at one time.

4. At the appointed time and place the examiner will proceed with the examination after satisfying himself that each seaman presented for test is one in respect of whom a form of application has been received and after identifying the man by the particulars in his discharge book or certificate.

5. The boat selected for examination purposes should be a Class IA Lifeboat as described in the Life Saving Appliances Rules, equipped as prescribed by those rules.

6. Each candidate will be required—

(i) To take part in the swinging out and lowering of the boat and getting the boat away from the ship.

(ii) To pull and steer, and act as coxswain when the boat is afloat.

(iii) To know the details and use of the equipment, including compass and sails.

(iv) To understand the orders commonly used during the operation of getting a boat away. (For explanation of these orders see suggested order of boat drill appended hereto.)

7. In the examination the procedure of getting the boat ready for lowering should be repeated at least three times. Each candidate in the examination is to act as one of the lowerers; this may be arranged by lowering the boat by stages, instead of the complete lowering the boat being effected with two men only acting as lowerers.

8. Candidates must muster in life-jackets which should be worn throughout the examination unless the examiner, at his discretion, allows them to be dispensed with during a portion of the examination.

9. The lowering of the boat should be under the supervision of a ship's officer or a responsible person appointed by the owner. Government do not accept responsibility for any accident which may occur in the course of the examination.

10. After the examination each candidate's application will be duly completed and in cases where the report is satisfactory a certificate of efficiency will be granted by the Port Officer, Calcutta, and the candidate's discharge book endorsed to that effect. The certificate may be either issued direct to the seamen or through the agent or master who forwarded the application for examination.

11. The appended order of boat drill has been prepared for the guidance of masters and officers, but the examiners will not necessarily follow this order.

12. The Port Officer, Calcutta, will be responsible for the conduct of the examination and for maintaining its standard. He will appoint as examiner either a competent officer of his staff or a marine superintendent of a shipping company, being a certificated master mariner.

13. Applications for examination will be received by the Port Officer, Calcutta.

Suggested order of boat drill for the guidance of masters and officers.

1. The boat's crew fall in standing in single line with life-jackets on, facing the boat, the coxswain being abreast of the stern post, the bowman at the stem, and the lowerers opposite the falls.

2. Whilst in this position they are instructed in, and questioned as to their knowledge of, the details of the boat, its equipment and management, and of the disengaging gear, if any, fitted to the boat.

3. Clear Away.—At this order the coxswain takes charge.

Lowerers see that the falls are properly made fast and clear for running.

The covers are removed.

The stroke oarsman ships the plug, the bowman passes the painter out, the remainder of the crew let go the gripes (outboard gripes first), see the falls, chocks, and guys clear, and the boat ready for swinging out.

The crew with the exception of the stroke oarsman and bowman then return to their former positions.

4. Swing Out.—At this order the boat is swung out as quickly as possible, the guys (if any) are secured, the painter is passed along to a suitable position and the rudder shipped. The boat is then lowered to a position suitable for the embarkation of passengers or crew.

Before the boat is lowered the operation of swinging out should be conducted several times in order to improve the crew's efficiency in this preliminary work.

5. Still, Carry On, Lower Away.—The order "Still" is given when through some misunderstanding or accident or for the purpose of instruction it is necessary to suspend operations. At this order each man stops what he is doing and retains his position. If the order "Still" is given whilst the boat is being lowered the lowerers immediately take an extra turn with the falls or belay them. The order "Carry On" means that operations should be resumed. At the order "Lower Away" the boat is lowered. It is desirable that each man in the boat's crew should act in his turn as one of the two lowerers.

6. When the boat is near or in the water, the crew, except those lowering, take their places in the boat, unhook her when waterborne, ship the crutches, and toss the oars.

7. As soon as the last two lowerers embark, the bowman hauls in the painter, and the practice afloat commences.

8. Each oarsman should be required to take turn in steering and giving orders such as "Pull Starboard", "Back Port", "In Bow", etc., also in assisting to set the sail, float the anchor, and bring the boat alongside.

Fees once paid cannot be refunded except to those whose claim for the refund is tenable under rule 19.

9. The fees for each term are to be paid in one instalment. Except in the case of new students, the fees for the Summer term are due on the 15th June and those for the Winter term on the 1st November, and must be paid on those dates or on such subsequent dates as the Principal directs, after which a daily fine of annas 4 will be levied along with the fee in each case of default.

16. The fees payable by a Muhammadan student requiring certificates in the same way will be calculated on the same principle, i.e., he will be allowed a deduction for the full annual fee, half of which has been paid by himself and half by the Mohsin Fund.

Students of the Military class requiring certificates in the same way will be required to pay the rate of fees laid down in paragraph 14 for the full curriculum or for such portion as they have attended. Summary.—Excepting light showers in East Bengal there was practically no rain in the rest of the province. Rain is needed specially in North and West Bengal for jute and paddy. Sowings of jute are well advanced in Eastern Bengal and weeding is progressing. The outlook of the standing crops is reported to be favourable. The average price of common rice for the Presidency has risen by about 0·45 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

Indemnity.

8. No suit, prosecution or legal proceeding whatever shall lie against any person in respect of anything which is, in good faith, done or intended to be done under this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The recent disturbances in Ca[illegible] have been largely due to the presence of a class of bad characters whose ejection [illegible]nduce to the restoration of public tranquillity and confidence. All of these per[illegible]not come within the purview of the Goondas Act, 1923; and in cases of extreme emergency it is found that the procedure under that Act is slow and cumbrous. Power has been taken under the proposed legislation for the Commissioner of Police and District Magistrates acting under the control of the Local Government to eject dangerous persons from the Presidency Area and, if not bona fide inhabitants of Bengal, from the Province. The powers are limited in each state of emergency to a period of three months. The Local Government is empowered to declare a state of emergency in certain circumstances and is required to formulate reasons for so doing. The powers of the Commissioner of Police and District Magistrates are exercised subject to the safeguard of the submission of a report on the circumstances of each individual case of ejection to the Local Government; and are analogous to the existing power of the Commissioner of Police in Bombay under section 27 of the City of Bombay Police Act, 1902 (Bombay Act IV of 1902).

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1185 L., dated Calcutta, the 12th March, 1926.—His Excellency the Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 18 of the Bengal Legislative Council Rules, 1920, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1926.

A

further to amend the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911.

Preamble.

WHEREAS the number of the representatives of the Corporation of Calcutta on the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta, as provided by the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911, has been reduced upon the commencement of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923; (Ben. Act V of 1911. Ben. Act III of 1923.)

AND WHEREAS it is expedient so to amend the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911, as to restore that number;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Calcutta Improvement (Amendment) Act, 1926.

Amendment of Section 7 of Ben. Act V of 1911.

2. In sub-section (1) of section 7 of the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911, for clauses (b) and (c), the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"(b) one by the Councillors elected by the constituencies other than the special constituencies, and (c) one jointly by the Councillors appointed under clause (b) of section 5 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, and the Councillors elected by the special constituencies."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 7 (1) of the Calcutta Improvement Act, 1911, provides that three Trustees of the Board for the Improvement of Calcutta should be elected by the Calcutta Corporation as constituted under the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, as follows:—

(a) one by the Corporation,

(b) one by the Ward Commissioners; and

(c) one by the appointed Commissioners, i.e., the Commissioners appointed by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, the Calcutta Trades' Association, the Port Commissioners and the Local Government.

The Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, has now been superseded by the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, which provides that the Corporation shall consist of—

(i) Councillors elected by the special constituencies (viz., the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, the Calcutta Trades Association and the Port Commissioners;

(ii) Councillors elected by the constituencies other than the special constituencies;

(iii) Councillors appointed by the Local Government, and

(iv) Aldermen elected by the elected and appointed Councillors.

There is no provision in the new Act substituting the Corporation or the elected Councillors for the "Ward Commissioners" of the repealed Act. There is therefore nobody to elect a Trustee of the Board under section 7 (1) (b) of the Calcutta Improvement Act. The Councillors elected under the new Calcutta Municipal Act by the constituencies other than the special constituencies, however, correspond roughly to the "Ward Commissioners", and the Bill provides that they shall elect one member of the Board of Trustees.

The Bill also provides that the Trustee under section 7 (1) (c) of the Act elected until 1923 by the appointed Commissioners of the old Corporation should in future be elected by the special constituencies and those appointed by the Local Government under section 5 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923.

NOTIFICATIONS.

COMMERCE.

Simla, the 24th April 1926.

No. 1076-C.—The following Bill, which has been introduced into Parliament, is published for general information :—

Merchandise Marks (Imported Goods) Bill.

ARRANGEMENT OF CLAUSES.

A Bill to require an indication of origin to be given in the case of certain imported goods.

BE it enacted by The King's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :—

Imported goods bearing name or trade mark of British manufacturer or trader not to be sold unless accompanied by indication of origin.

1. It shall not be lawful to sell, expose for sale, or distribute by way of advertisement, in the United Kingdom, any goods which bear any name or trade mark being, or purporting to be, the name or trade mark of any manufacturer, dealer or trader in the United Kingdom, not being goods produced or wholly or mainly manufactured therein, unless the name or trade mark is accompanied by an indication of origin.

Power to require indication of origin in the case of certain imported goods.

2. (1) Where the appropriate department within the meaning of this Act, after an enquiry has been held by a committee appointed for the purposes of this Act (in this Act referred to as "a committee") and the report of the committee on the matter has been taken into consideration by the department, is satisfied that it is in the interest of trade in the United Kingdom or of trade between the United Kingdom and any other part of His Majesty's Dominions, that imported goods of any class or description to be used or consumed in the United Kingdom should not be sold unless they bear an indication of origin, His Majesty in Council may, on a representation to that effect being made to him by the department and subject to the provisions of this Act, make an Order prohibiting the sale, or the exposure for sale in the United Kingdom, of imported goods of that class or description unless they bear an indication of origin.

(2) If it appears to a committee to be desirable that any imported goods being foodstuffs should bear an indication of origin at the time of importation, and the committee so reports to the appropriate department, His Majesty may by Order in Council under this section (without prejudice to his powers under the preceding sub-section) make provision accordingly, and if any such goods required by any such Order to bear an indication of origin at the time of importation do not at that time bear such an indication they shall be deemed to be goods which are prohibited to be imported by virtue of section sixteen of the principal Act :

Provided that nothing in the foregoing provision shall be taken to be in derogation of anything contained in the said section sixteen.

(3) If it appears to a committee that imported goods of any class or description to be used in the United Kingdom ought not to be sold unless distinguished from similar goods manufactured in the United Kingdom but that by reason of the nature of the goods it is not practically possible to apply either at all or effectively an indication of origin to those goods, and the committee so reports to the appropriate department, His Majesty may by Order in Council under this section provide that imported goods of that class or description shall not be sold, or exposed for sale, in the United Kingdom, unless they are distinguished from similar goods manufactured in the United Kingdom by some form of distinctive colouring or other variation in their make-up, which shall be different in the case of goods manufactured or produced in a foreign country and in the case of goods manufactured or produced in a part of His Majesty's Dominions outside the United Kingdom.

(4) A committee shall, from time to time, and as soon as may be practicable in each case, make reports to the appropriate department specifying the classes or descriptions of goods, if any, with respect to which, in the opinion of the committee, an Order in Council ought to be made under this section, and the committee may, if it thinks it desirable, and shall, if so required by the appropriate department, recommend in what form and manner the indication of origin should be applied to the goods, or, in the case of goods to which the last preceding sub-section applies, the means by which the goods are to be made distinguishable.

(5) An Order in Council under this section shall specify in every case—

(a) the manner in which the indication of origin is to be applied to the goods, or, in the case of goods to which sub-section (3) of this section applies, the means by which the goods are to be made distinguishable ; and

(b) the date (not being a date earlier than three months from the date of the making of the Order) on which the Order is to come into force ; and also, if it relates to goods being foodstuffs, whether the goods are to bear an indication of origin at the time of importation or of exposure for sale wholesale, and any such Order may contain such other provisions as appear to His Majesty to be necessary or expedient for carrying this section into effect.

Constitution committees.

3. (1) For the purposes of this Act, there shall be two standing committees, of which one (in this Act referred to as "the agricultural produce committee") shall be charged with enquiries relating to agricultural and horticultural produce and the produce of any fishing industry and the other with enquiries relating to goods of any other kind.

(2) Each committee shall, subject to the provisions of this sub-section, consist of not less than three and not more than five persons, and shall be appointed by the appropriate department.

(3) The members of a committee shall hold office for such period as the department by which the committee is appointed thinks fit, and the department may from time to time fill any vacancies occurring in the membership of the committee.

(4) There shall be paid to the members of a committee such fees or other remuneration as the appropriate department, with the consent of the Treasury, may determine.

Offences.

4. (1) If any person—

(a) sells, exposes for sale, or distributes by way of advertisement, any goods in contravention of the provisions of this Act ; or

(b) acts in contravention of or fails to comply with any Order in Council made under this Act ;

he shall, subject to the provisions of this section, be guilty of an offence against the principal Act :

Provided that in the case of the sale wholesale by a person being a wholesale dealer of any goods other than goods being foodstuffs which by virtue of an Order in Council made under this Act are required to bear an indication of origin at the time of importation or of exposure for sale wholesale, it shall be a good defence to proceedings under this sub-section if that person satisfies the court that the goods were sold to the purchaser on an undertaking in writing that they would either have an indication of origin applied to them in accordance with the requirements of this Act or any Order in Council made thereunder or would be exported or sold for exportation to a place outside the United Kingdom, and any such undertaking in writing if it purports to be signed by the purchaser and specifies the usual business address of the purchaser shall be admissible as evidence of the facts appearing therein.

(2) If any person advertises or offers for sale as being goods of a particular brand or make or otherwise under a specific designation any imported goods of a class or description to which an Order in Council under this Act applies, he shall, if he does not include in the advertisement or offer an indication of the origin of the goods, and subject to the provisions of this section, be guilty of an offence against the principal Act.

(3) Where any person sells, or exposes for sale, any goods of which any imported goods, being goods to which an Order in Council under this Act applies, form a distinguishable part, and that part is reasonably capable of having applied to it an indication of origin in manner required by the Order, he shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to have sold, or exposed for sale, that part, and the provisions of this section shall apply accordingly.

(4) It shall not within the United Kingdom be lawful to submit or cause to be submitted to any person samples of goods of a class or description to which an Order in Council under this Act applies unless the required indication of origin is applied to the samples or unless particulars corresponding to the particulars which would be contained in such an indication are communicated in writing to the person to whom the samples are submitted, and if any person acts in contravention of the provisions of this sub-section he shall, subject to the provisions of this section, be guilty of an offence against the principal Act.

(5) A person shall not be treated as being guilty by virtue of this section of an offence against the principal Act if he proves—

(a) that having taken all reasonable precautions against committing such an offence he had at the time of the commission of the alleged offence no reason to suspect that the goods were goods to which this Act or an Order in Council made thereunder applied, and that on a demand made by or on behalf of the prosecutor he gave all the information in his power with respect to the persons from whom he obtained the goods ; or

(b) that otherwise he had acted innocently.

Laying before Parliament and revocation and variation of orders.

5. (1) Before any Order in Council is made under this Act, a draft of the Order shall be laid before each House of Parliament, and if either House within the next subsequent twenty days on which that House has sat next after the draft is laid before it resolves that an Address be presented to His Majesty against the draft or any part thereof, no further proceedings shall be taken theron but without prejudice to the making of a new draft Order.

(2) An Order in Council made under this Act may, on a representation to His Majesty by the appropriate department, but without any enquiry by or report from a committee, be revoked or varied by a subsequent Order made in accordance with the provisions of this section :

Provided that any such Order shall not be varied by the inclusion therein of any further goods, unless an enquiry has been held by a committee and the committee has presented to the appropriate department a report recommending that an Order in Council under this Act should be made in respect of those goods.

Penalty on removal of indication of origin from imported goods.

6. If any person removes, alters or obliterates an indication of origin which in compliance with the requirements of an Order in Council made under this Act was borne by the goods at the time of their importation or exposure for sale wholesale he shall be guilty of an offence against the principal Act, unless he proves to the satisfaction of the court dealing with the case that the removal, alteration or obliteration was not for the purpose of concealing the origin of the goods at the time of their sale or exposure for sale.

Execution of Act by local authorities.

7. (1) Every local authority authorised to appoint an analyst for the purposes of the Sale of Foods and Drugs Acts, 1875 to 1907, may, so far as relates to any goods being foodstuffs, execute any of the provisions of this Act other than provisions relating to the importation of goods, and any expenses incurred by a local authority under this section shall be defrayed in the same manner as expenses incurred by the authoriiy in executing the provisions of the said Acts.

(2) An officer of any such local authority as aforesaid, if authorised in that behalf by the authority and on production if so required of his authority, may at any time during the hours when the premises are open for the business enter any premises on which he has reason to believe that there are kept for sale ant imported foodstuffs to which this Act applies and take samples of any goods which appear to him to be such imported foodstuffs, and any person who obstructs an officer so authorised in the execution of the powers conferred on him by this section shall be guilty of an offence against the principal Act.

RESOLUTION.

The 1st April 1926.

No. F-276-Ex.-25.—Different rules are at present in force prescribing rates of exchange to be applied in converting sterling overseas pay into rupees for different purposes. The Government of India have now decided to prescribe one uniform rate for all cases, so far as this is possible. Except therefore, in the case of the calculation of average emoluments for pension, which is still under consideration, the current rate of exchange, as defined in Article 343, Account Code, will hereafter be adopted for conversion for all purposes. The same rate will be employed in determining whether any maximum laid down in rupees for the pay of any post, part of which is drawn in sterling, is exceeded.

2. These orders will take effect from 1st April 1922 for the purpose of calculating compensatory allowances, and in all other cases from the 1st April 1926.

Ordered that the Resolution be published in Part I of the Gazette of India.

MEDICAL COLLEGE OF BENGAL.

Rules for the guidance of students seeking admission.

1. Two classes of students are admitted for study in the College :—

(a) "Regular class" or those who enter for the full University course.

The admission to this class is restricted to students (male and female) who are natives of, or whose parents are domiciled in, the area within the territorial limits of the Calcutta University and the provinces of Assam, Manipur State and Central Provinces, and those who come from the Dacca University and Board as provided for in rule 4.

(b) "Military class" (only students of European or Anglo-Indian parentage are admitted to this class). (See separate prospectus for Military students.)

The admission to this class is regulated by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service.

2. The minimum preliminary qualification for admission to the (a) "Regular class" is the Pass certificate of the I. Sc. Examination of the Calcutta University with Physics and Chemistry, or any examination equivalent to it. In assessing the claims of those eligible for admission, special proficiency in those subjects particularly useful in the medical curriculum will be given the fullest consideration, viz., in English, Physics, Chemistry and Botany.

3. The Summer term commences on the 15th June and closes on the 19th September. The Winter term opens on 5th October and closes on the 31st March.

4. All new students must apply for admission to the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, in the prescribed form available in this office on or before the 25th May, together with a fee of Rs. 4, which will not be refunded on any account except in the case of Assamese students, who should apply to the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of that province for admission within such date as that officer may prescribe. Students who come from the Dacca University and the Dacca Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education are admitted on the nomination of the Secretary of the said Board and University, and the candidates from the Central Provinces on the nomination of the Director of Public Instruction of that province. The candidate from Manipur will be nominated by the Manipur State.

Selected candidates must pay the following fees within the time prescribed by the Principal, failing which their names will be struck off the selected list :—

	Rs.
Admission fee	25
Fees for Summer term	100
Athletic Club fee	4
Total ...	129

5. The number of regular students to be admitted each year is generally 120, but the Principal may, at his discretion, increase or decrease this number, and the final selection lies entirely with him.

One-fourth of the total number to be admitted, if a suitable number of candidates be obtained, shall be Muhammadans. One candidate will be nominated by the Director of Public Instruction, Central Provinces, six candidates by the Inspector-General, Civil Hospitals, Assam, three candidates of the Dacca University and three candidates of the Dacca Board of Intermediate and Secondary Education by the respective authorities. One candidate will be nominated by the Manipur State. These candidates must possess the qualifications mentioned in rule 2. These nominations must reach the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, before the 10th June in each year, failing which the Principal will fill up vacancies with local candidates.

6. (a) Female students will be admitted to this College provided they possess the requisite preliminary qualification, and provided there is a vacancy in the Surnomoyee Hostel in which all female students must reside.

(b) Female students already studying in this College but belonging to provinces other than Bengal will have to pay rents for their seats in the Surnomoyee Hostel.

7. Failed students must apply for admission and pay the fee within the date prescribed by the Principal, otherwise their claims will lapse.

8. All regular students must pay an annual fee of Rs. 200 in two instalments, viz., Rs. 100 for the Summer term and Rs. 100 for the Winter term. They must also pay the annual Athletic Club fee of Rs. 4 along with the fees for their Summer term. Fees once paid cannot be refunded except to those whose claim for the refund is tenable under rule 19.

9. The fees for each term are to be paid in one instalment. Except in the case of new students, the fees for the Summer term are due on the 15th June and those for the Winter term on the 1st November, and must be paid on those dates or on such subsequent dates as the Principal directs, after which a daily fine of annas 4 will be levied along with the fee in each case of default.

10. Female students are not liable to pay the Athletic Club fee.

11. Students relegated to a further course of study after failure to pass the Preliminary Scientific M.B, and the First M.B. Examinations shall pay Rs. 100 for the whole session in one instalment within the time prescribed.

12. Students who fail at the Final M.B. Examination shall pay fees for the whole session at the following rates in one instalment :—

	Rs.
For one subject	25
For two subjects	50
For three or more subjects	75

13. Students taking up subjects outside the curriculum of the year in which they are studying shall pay Rs. 30 for each such subject including lectures and practical classes.

14. The fee for certificates issued to regular students leaving the College before completing their study, or for those issued to Military students, shall be Rs. 40 per each course of lectures and practical classes and Rs. 30 for every three months of Hospital practice.

15. In calculating the sum to be paid under rule 14 by a regular student, the amount of College fees paid by him (or in the case of a student enjoying a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student) shall be deducted.

16. The fees payable by a Muhammadan student requiring certificates in the same way will be calculated on the same principle, i.e., he will be allowed a deduction for the full annual fee, half of which has been paid by himself and half by the Mohsin Fund.

17. Students of the Military class requiring certificates in the same way will be required to pay the rate of fees laid down in paragraph 14 for the full curriculum or for such portion as they have attended. No deduction will be made in this case as they are not free students in the sense in which that term is defined in Bengal Government Resolution (Education) No, 601 of the 7th December 1880,

18. The fee for post-graduate students undergoing a course of training in the Pathological, Bacteriological, Physiological or Chemical Laboratory is Rs. 90 for a period not exceeding six months.

19. Holders of scholarships awarded by the Government of Bengal are not required to pay the annual fees of Rs. 200 for the year in which they hold such scholarships.
